HELD ON CHARGE OF SWINDLE

George W. Reynolds, Former Grayslake Man Arrested in Michigan

A noiseless sanitary appliance, which was to revolutionize modern plumbing and bring the inventor and his friends who assisted him financially an income of $800,000 in the first three years, failed to work, and George W. Reynolds, who formerly lived at 254 East Chicago avenue and for years lived at Grayslake, Lake county, was placed in jail Saturday at Muskegon, Mich. The sale of small percentages of the royalties he expected to receive was the method of gaining capital used by Reynolds and it is believed he gathered a rich harvest.

Mrs. August Eucner, a milliner of Muskegon, caused the arrest of Reynolds after she had put up $500 for 1 per cent of the royalties that were to accrue. Mrs. A. Costigan, who operates a small bakery at 290 East Chicago avenue, admits paying a similar amount and H. E. Barron, 419 Lincoln avenue, obtained the rights to the same share by paying $450.

One woman in the neighborhood where Reynolds lived is said to have paid $500.

It is believed that a number of others bought interests in Reynolds' invention, but they are keeping quiet. Peter McArthur, a carpenter, at 340 Fifth avenue, did not invest in the scheme, but was to receive a share of the royalties in return for past favors. It is in McArthur's shop that Reynolds "perfected" his invention. A lawyer, who drew up the contracts for the sale of percentages of the royalties also said to have been promised a goodly share.

The arrest of Reynolds followed a trip of investigation made by W. E. Wyndt, 2154 North Clark street, to the plant of the Garland Villa Manufacturing Co. at Muskegon. Wyndt did not invest in the royalties but was contemplating it. He made the discovery that Reynolds' appliance was not working right and says he learned a Muskegon plumber had offered to put it in good shape for $1,000. This sum Reynolds was unable to raise, and his arrest followed.

According to Barron, he and Reynolds grew up together in Grayslake, and this he offers as an explanation as to why he was able to purchase his percentage at a reduced rate. He said Reynolds expected the royalties to amount to $100,000 the first year and claimed that several big concerns over the United States had agreed to take the entire output. Reynolds said the appliance had never been patented and the royalty purchasers failed to agree as to whether the patents were applied for or pending.

A. F. Vila, manager of the Garland Villa Manufacturing company, the concern that was to make Reynolds' appliances, said he had never seen one of the inventions that worked like its inventor claimed it would or that in any way approached the contract specifications.

MARRIED IN CHICAGO SATURDAY

Miss Mary Mabel Toll Becomes Bride of Judge DeWitt L. Jones

Saturday afternoon, near 5 o'clock, at All Souls' church in Chicago, Rev. Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones united in marriage County Judge DeWitt L. Jones and Miss Mabel M. Toll of Waukegan, friends only attending.

The bridal party left on the 2:55 train for Chicago and the only intimation that Waukegan in general had of the ceremony was the publication of the license in Chicago papers Saturday morning.

The marriage marks the culmination of a romance and comes at the end of an engagement persistently denied until practically the hour of the ceremony, neither contracting party being willing to admit the truth of rumors to the effect that they were engaged.

In the party, besides the bride and groom-to-be, were Louis Jones, son of Judge Jones, who came down from Racine Academy to attend the marriage; William L. Farmer and Mrs. Guy Shaw, the last named a close mate of the bride at Waterman Hall.

Saturday evening after the ceremony Judge and Mrs. Jones left on a honeymoon trip. Their destination is not announced. After a trip that will last about a week they will return and make their home at the Jones residence on North Genesee St., Waukegan.

Judge Jones has served several terms as county and probate judge of Lake county, and is the head of the Illinois Abstract Company. He belongs to various lodges of prominence.

Mrs. Mabel Toll Jones is the elder daughter of Dean William Toll, of Christ church, and has been Judge Jones' private secretary.

LITTLE CHILD FATALLY BURNED

Thirteen Months' Old Child of John Rosnick Falls in Tub of Boiling Water

Friday afternoon the thirteen months old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosnick of 908 Tenth St., Waukegan, fell into a tub of boiling hot water and was literally "cooked to death."

Men calceining the walls had left a tub of water standing on the floor and they were at work on the ceiling.

The child was playing about the room and in some unaccountable manner fell into the tub.

It went in head first and was there for a moment before the men or the mother, who was in an adjoining room, saw it. The latter rushed into the room, grabbed the child and pulled it out.

The child had fallen in such a manner that even its feet were cooked by the boiling water. The entire body was terribly burned and Dr. Kalowski, when he arrived, feared for the end. He worked hard on the little tot but death resulted Saturday morning.

GROUP OF OLD FRIENDS HAVE PICTURE TAKEN

On Saturday morning of last week seventeen of Antioch's oldest residents met at B. F. VanPatten's for the purpose of having their photographs taken in a group. These assembled and their respective ages are as follows:

Lorenzo Parker, 91 years of age; John Horan, 88; Uncle Joe Rinear, 86; J. C. James, Sr., 81; Abe Crowley, 78; C. B. Harrison, 73; Eli Judd, 73; Cyrus Proctor, 72; Jos. Savage, 69; L. K. Willett, 65; J. B. Burnett, 64; Jas. Britton, 63; Mike Sheehan, 63; Walter Stickles, 62; Jan. Kaye, 60; John Drury, 52; B. F. VanPatten, 52.

Three pictures were taken, one outside and two inside of the building. Those taken on the inside also contained the likenesses of H. Bock, Village President and Senator A. N. Tiffany. Out of this number six claim the honor of being old veterans who fought for the right in the civil war. The picture that was taken outside was the same with the exception of H. Bock and A. N. Tiffany who couldn't be induced outside.

Lorenzo Parker is the oldest of the group and lays claim to the advanced age of 91 years. John Horan is next and is 88, while Uncle Joe Rinear ranks third with 86 years. A. N. Tiffany and H. Bock when interviewed refused to give their ages consequently we are unable to say who the youngest of the group may be but we are inclined to think that B. F. VanPatten and John Drury are entitled to the distinction for they each unhesitatingly gave their age at 52. The pictures when finished will be about 8x12 inches and will be treasured as souvenirs of the occasion. The picture as it appears here is the one that was taken outside.

A BUNCH OF HAS-BEENS

FOREIGNERS BARED FROM CONDUCTING SALOONS

A bill is at present before the Wisconsin senate which provides that none but citizens may run saloons. This bill is in a fair way to become a law and is causing much uneasiness in that state where foreigners are conducting saloons in districts where many of their own nationality are employed.

Even should the saloon keepers apply at once for naturalization papers, their licenses would in many cases expire before their papers could be secured. And although some of them may now have their first set of papers, under the provisions of the new naturalization law such an amount of red tape is necessary that before they could receive their final set of papers, legally making them citizens of United States, they would find that they could not renew their licenses and thus their places of business would have to be closed.

FOX RIVER WILL GET CONSIGNMENT OF FISH.

In answer to a query sent to the bureau of fisheries at Washington by Joy Love of the Fox River Boat Coasting Club asking that the Fox be remembered this year when the annual distribution of fish is made, the following letter was received.

Your application for fish has been received, and from your description of the waters it is believed that black bass will be the most desirable, accordingly there has been made an assignment of this species, the distribution of which occurs between April and November.

You will be advised in advance of the proposed date of shipment and given other essential particulars. The bureau undertakes to furnish a sufficient number to serve as brood stock only, and it is expected that proper protection will be given them until they have time to reproduce.

COMMISSION IS PUSHING WORK

State Highway Commission Experimenting Throughout Illinois

The state highway commission is pushing as rapidly as possible the construction of a number of experimental roads in various sections of the state. There has been much delay in getting this work started, owing to the negotiations it was necessary to take up with the various railroad for freight rates. This has permitted work to begin at some points and to be delayed at others.

One stretch of road has been completed at Salem, Illinois. This road is situated in Salem township, just outside the city of Salem. The highway commissioners of Salem township applied for broken stone, which was furnished them and a piece of road built by the local commissioners; owing to the lack of proper methods, the road thus laid was poorly made. The state highway commission completed about 2,200 feet of the work with the aid of a steam roller and modern methods of construction, making as smooth and fine appearing piece of road as can be found anywhere.

The width of the macadam is about 14 feet and put on eight inches deep; part of the work was resurfacing the road laid by the local commissioners, at the end of which was about 600 feet of newly constructed road. The exact cost of this work cannot be ascertained, owing to lack of records on the work done prior to that under charge of the state highway commission. The estimated cost of this work per mile, including grading and shaping the subgrade, hauling the stone a distance of about a mile and a quarter, spreading and rolling, is about $2,500.

TED COLLIER IS FINED $1,000

Auto Expert, Convicted of Manslaughter, Is Sentenced to Pay Heavy Fine

The famous case of the State vs. Edward Collier, charged with and convicted of manslaughter in the fourth degree in connection with the killing of William Dreyer north of Kenosha last July, came to an end in the Circuit Court Monday morning, when Judge Belden sentenced Collier to pay a fine of $1,000 and the costs of the action or be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of six months. The fine and costs of the action were paid and Collier walked out of the court a free man just before noon. The entire cost of the trial as paid by Collier was a little over $200.

Just before sentence was imposed on Collier the attorneys for the defense moved the Court for an arrest of judgement and this was at once denied. Collier was called before the Court and asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be imposed on him and he replied that he had not. The Court then in one of the most powerful addresses ever delivered to a prisoner at the bar in this circuit, sentenced Collier. He said:

"At the beginning of your trial I told the jury that the State does not desire the conviction of any person accused of an offense against the law unless, after fair and impartial trial, and in the face of the presumption of innocence with which the law guards the accused, the jury is convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of such person's guilt."

"A jury as able and as fair as any that ever sat in this Court has found you guilty of manslaughter in the fourth degree, resulting from what the law dominates culpable negligence. In the ruling upon your motion for a new trial you have the judgment of the Court that the evidence supports the verdict, and that the trial was properly conducted."

"It now becomes my duty to say what manner of punishment shall be imposed upon you. I have considered this matter with great concern and from all points of view. There were many things to be considered, not ordinarily entering into deliberations of this sort. It has been my duty to determine what penalty, under all the circumstances shown upon the trial, best subserves the interests of the state and yourself. I have dealt with this matter deliberately so that I might be entirely satisfied with the conclusion."

"It is the judgment and sentence of the court that you, Edward Collier, be punished by paying a fine of one thousand dollars and the costs of the prosecution, and that you be committed to the county jail of Kenosha county until such fine and costs are paid or discharged, not exceeding six months."

His Face for the Pie. A seven-year-old who, at dinner, without a thought of the dessert, had eaten not wisely but too well, remarked: "Geel! I'm full up to my neck." His mother said: "That's too bad for we are going to have pie." Undaunted, he replied: "Bring it on! I've got my face for the pie."

The material was furnished free by the state from the state rock crusher at the Southern Illinois penitentiary at Meneard. The freight on the stone over the Illinois Southern railroad was paid in ballast.

The contrast between the portion of the road built with the steam roller and that upon which the roller was not used, furnishes a most striking illustration of the importance of proper equipment and technical experience in highway construction.

The improved piece of road is attracting a great deal of attention locally and the travel over other routes in the vicinity is almost entirely diverted to the new road, in spite of the fact that the distance is thus increased.

There is another interesting piece of road work in the vicinity of Salem, which has been carried on through the efforts of Mr. John H. Green, who for the past six years has cranked and kept in excellent condition one mile of road near his farm. During the past winter it is said that the Green road was the best piece of road in the country. This piece of road has been kept in better condition than the average road in the country for less money than was spent on other roads where a grader and four to six horses are used. It is an interesting fact that Mr. Green has been using off and on for the past fifteen years, a road drag very similar to what is known as the "Split Log Drag," and has done much to interest the people generally in this work, and recommends its general adoption for the maintenance of earth roads.

"IKE" SURPRISES HIS FRIENDS

Ira M. Simons and Miss Margaret Moran Married Wednesday, April 24.

On Wednesday evening, April 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Sabin occurred the marriage of Ira M. Simons of this place, to Margaret A. Moran of Marengo, Iowa.

Merrill Sabin, nephew of the groom, acted as ring bearer and Olive Benahan as flower girl.

The bride was attired in a white Princess over white satin and carried bride's roses, while the groom wore the conventional black.

At exactly 8 o'clock the bride and groom entered the parlor which was beautifully and tastefully decorated for the occasion, to the strains of Lohengren's wedding march played by the groom's sister, Mrs. D. B. Sabin, where Rev. F. R. McNamer, with the impressive ring ceremony, made them man and wife.

After the ceremony and hearty congratulations the guests were ushered into the dining room, where a bountiful wedding supper was served at which merry-making and jests and good cheer reigned supreme.

The bride is a well known and universally liked young lady who has spent the past few years in Antioch and vicinity. The groom is well known in this county having lived here all his life and is generally known as "Ike," the all around good fellow. He has for the past few years conducted a hotel at Petite Lake and by his genial disposition has made his place one of the most popular on the lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Simons will make their future home at their hotel at Petite Lake. The news joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life.

Notwithstanding the steady downpour of rain the Antioch Cornet Band, of which Ira was a charter member, and about forty others surrounded the house and gave them a serenade that they (and the neighbors) will not soon forget. The genial Ira appeared with his bride and after introducing her they both proceeded to pass boxes of cigars to the boys. When Ira asked them to play "No. 23" the crowd dispersed; but the band declined, and taking possession of the porch proceeded to play several more selections after which cigars were again produced and the boys departed wishing the bride and groom happiness and success and vowing them royal and generous entertainers.

Melon as Fish Bait.

It seems that the melon is a dainty much appreciated by fish, and in high favor as a bait among German anglers. The method of procedure is as follows: A hole is cut at the end farthest from the stem, the seeds are extracted and a part of the fruit hollowed out. A number of hooks are attached to a line threaded through the stem are buried in the flesh of the melon, which is then sent adrift, being buoyed on the surface by pieces of wood and furnished with a line, by which it can be drawn ashore when the bobbing of the bait shows that a fish has been hooked.

OLD SETTLER PASSED AWAY

Theodore A. Emmons Died Suddenly on Last Friday Evening

On Friday evening of last week at about eight o'clock occurred the sudden and unexpected death of Theodore Emmons, an elderly, well known and highly respected resident of this place.

For the past three weeks he had not been feeling well, but at no time was he unable to be dressed and about the house. The malady from which he was suffering was supposed to be only a slight attack of catarrh rheumatism, and to all appearances he was recovering as fast as could be expected and was looking forward to a complete recovery as soon as the warm weather came.

On Friday evening he ate his supper with the family as usual, and after the meal some little time was spent in laughing and joking, in which Mr. Emmons heartily joined, but about half past seven he began to complain of a severe pain in his stomach and also in the region of his heart. His family realizing that he was rapidly growing worse, hastily summoned a physician who arrived in a very short time, but medical assistance and all that loving hands could do was of no avail, and he passed into a sinking spell, from which he never revived, death claiming him as its own in less than one short half hour from the moment in which he first complained of feeling worse. His death being undoubtedly due to the rheumatism going to his heart, and coming as it did so unexpected was indeed a severe shock to his family and friends.

Theodore A. Emmons was born in Hastings, Oswego County, New York, May 8, 1834, and when ten years of age, he with his father, mother, two sisters and two brothers came to Lake County, Illinois when this section of the country was little more than a wilderness, and here the remainder of his life was spent. He was married to Mary Willett of this place in the year of 1857 and was left a widower with a small daughter in the year of 1904.

In the year of 1865 he was united in marriage to Miss Matilda Willett, with whom forty years of his life was spent. To them seven children were born, two sons and five daughters. Mrs. Hollmann, of Cobden, Ill.; Mrs. Frank Pittman, of Chetek, Wis.; Mrs. Earl Webb of Hickory, Mrs. Alfred Elinger, Mrs. Belle Gilbert and Ben Emmons of this place and Wm. Emmons of Chicago, all of whom survive him. He was again left a widower in December 1904, and his eldest daughter, Mrs. Hucker passed away about two weeks previous to that time. Of the five children who came to Illinois in an early day he was next to the youngest, and is survived by two brothers, R. D. Emmons of this place, Harry Emmons, of Phoenix, Arizona, and one sister at San Francisco, Cal. Mr. Emmons was a member of the Christian religion, having united with the Christian church at this place a great many years ago. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. and was an earnest, enthusiastic member of that body. He was originally a member of the Wilmet lodge joining there in July 13, 1878, before such an organization existed in Antioch. He leaves besides his children, grandchildren, brothers and sisters, a large circle of friends who sincerely mourn his loss.

The funeral was held at the home at 3:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, the Odd Fellows having full charge with Rev. Wm. O. Cleworth, of Wilmette, also a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge officiating, and with members from Grayslake, Wilmet and Genoa Junction in attendance. The floral offerings were many and beautiful and showed in a measure the esteem in which he was held by his many friends. The remains were laid out in the family lot in the Antioch Hillside Cemetery.

WOMEN WORK POLITICAL GAME

Grayslake Women Vote for School Trustee and Win Out.

The women of Grayslake have entered politics and their debut is one which other Lake County people will look at in astonishment as it developed one of the cleverest coups that recent elections in the county have seen. Although the election in question was only a school election, it showed that there are women in Lake County who have the instinct to make clever politicians.

This is what the Grayslake Times says of the matter: "The annual school board election was held at the school house on Saturday evening. E. B. Neville was defeated for re-election by J. S. Murrie by a vote of 19 to 4."

It was not generally known that Mr. Neville, who had made a good official, had any opposition until nearly time to close the polls, when fifteen ladies and four gentlemen suddenly appeared at the polls and evidently each one cast a vote for J. S. Murrie. The different political careers are often hard to solve. The school board now consists of Frank Proctor, Ernest Moore and John Murrie."

This act on their part surely explodes the theory that "woman cannot keep a secret," and in view of the fact that the ladies are very apt to outwit the gentlemen if on any occasion they set out to do so, it is small wonder that the majority of the masculine population are bitterly opposed to the fair sex entering the political world.

WAUKEGAN REBEKAH DRILL TEAM BEST IN WORLD

The Waukegan Rebekahs Saturday evening in Chicago carried off the chief honors at the eighty-eighth anniversary celebration of the Odd Fellows at Brook's Casino, on Wabash avenue.

The drill put up by the Waukegan ladies far surpassed those of two companies of the Odd Fellows that appeared before, and was the best that was ever put up in Chicago. It earned the most enthusiastic applause and brought the highest compliments from the members of the military branch of the order and from military men there.

The drill came as a surprise to the members of the order in Chicago. The executive committee had invited the degree team of the local order to represent the Rebekah department of the Odd Fellows at the celebration by a drill.

Wishing to surprise the ones at the celebration, the Waukegan degree team organized itself into a Canton of Lady Lancers. It is absolutely the first one in the world.

Dr. R. H. T. Nesbit is captain of the canton; Miss Hattie Cooper, lieutenant; Mrs. Grace Bairrow, ensign, and Mrs. Marie Kifer, pianist.

The drill put up by the canton was the duplicate of the men's drill, and every tactic that the men's canton performed was executed by the Waukegan ladies, but with much greater precision and snap. Out of 132 evolutions not a single break was made, and two wrong orders were given them. One was given as a test, by Captain Nesbit and the other was erroneously stated by them, but the canton stood fast, displaying the highest military discipline.

OPEN TO WORLD

QUELLS INCIPIENT PANIC

Reviews the International War Fleets, Makes a Vigorous Address and Presses the Gold Button.

Norfolk, Va.—President Roosevelt, the diplomatic, naval and military representatives of 37 of the nations of the world, and the governors of a score of states, participated Friday in the opening exercises of the Jamestown Tercentennial exposition.

From the firing of a sunrise salute of 300 guns by the United States army, through the picturesque review of the international fleet of war vessels anchored in Hampton Roads, through the ceremonies of dedication at which the president spoke, and down to a late hour at night, when the chief executive went aboard the naval yacht Sylph to spend the night in the lower bay, the day was crowded with notable incidents.

Not the least impressive of the day's events was the action of the president in assuming command of the situation in front of the crowded grandstand from which he spoke, when a panic seized the surging throng of spectators. Pressed against the guard ropes by thousands of eager persons in the rear of the gathering, who were forcing their way forward, the safety of life and limb of those who had the more favored positions was endangered. With the agility of a schoolboy, the president jumped upon the table which had been placed in the speakers' balcony and, waving his arms, cried out to the men of Virginia to live up to their traditions of gallantry and cease the crowding which was threatening the lives of the women and children in the assemblage. The crowd heeded the president's warning at once.

Some of the president's remarks—noticeably when he touched upon the subject of the recent peace congress in New York—were addressed to the representatives of the many nations of the world; others were emphasized to the soldiers and sailors who took such a conspicuous part in the day's program, and other thoughts to which he gave utterance were directed toward the general public. There were constant outbursts of applause and cheering. Especially when reference was made to the gallantry of the men who fought in the civil war—beneath the banners of the north or the cross-barred flag of the confederacy—was the cheering and the applause unattained.

The military encamped about the exposition grounds began the day's ceremonies with the firing of the three-century salute. Soon thereafter from across the waters of Hampton Roads came the boom of ship cannon, signaling the beginning of the review by the president of the most formidable fleet of international battleships and cruisers the world has witnessed in many years.

On board the tiny cruiser yacht Mayflower, the president, with a few especially invited guests, was greeted first by a roar of 21 guns from each of the vessels, foreign and American. Then, as he steamed along the lane of the visiting men of war, he was saluted individually and in turn by every battleship and cruiser at anchor in the roads. The marine picture, viewed from shore by thousands and from the decks of excursion and pleasure craft by almost as many more, was at once imposing and impressive.

When his yacht had anchored in the very midst of the naval vessels, the president received on board the flag and commanding officers of the foreign fleet and the flag officers of the home squadron.

The ceremonies of dedication were brief, the features being the addresses of President Tucker of the exposition and President Roosevelt. The latter, at the conclusion of his address, pressed the gold button, which formally marked the opening of the commemorative enterprise. Then followed an informal luncheon to the president and 40 other guests in the Auditorium or administration building. The repast ended, the president repaired again to the grandstand, from which he reviewed a parade of United States soldiers and sailors.

Letter Wins Explosion Suit.
Benton, Ill.—A jury here returned a verdict of acquittal in the case of the people against Zeigler Coal company, charged with employing mine examiners without certificates of competency. The case grew out of an explosion in the Zeigler mines two years ago. The motion of Joseph Letter for a new trial in the case of similar character, in which he was convicted in February, was overruled and the case taken to the appellate court on appeal. This is the last of the prosecutions instituted against Mr. Letter and his company as a result of the explosion.

Explosion Kills Four Miners.
Seattle, Wash.—Four miners were killed and nine severely injured Friday in an explosion on the sixth level of the Morgan slope at the Black Diamond mine of the Pacific Coast company, 25 miles from here.

Miner Hicks Tries to End Life.
Beno, Nev.—Lindsay B. Hicks, the miner who for 17 days was buried in the Edison mine at Bakersfield, Cal., attempted suicide here by leaping in front of a switch engine. A bystander saved his life.

BINGER HERMANN ACQUITTED

FREED OF CHARGE OF DESTROYING PUBLIC RECORDS.

Long Trial of Ex-Congressman and Former Commissioner of Land Office Ended.

Washington.—Binger Hermann, former congressman from Oregon, and former commissioner of the general land office, was acquitted of the charge of destroying public records by the verdict of a jury rendered at 12:40 o'clock Saturday. The trial had progressed for 12 weeks, and the jury deliberated 21 hours before reaching a verdict.

Nothing was heard from the jury room after the jury retired at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, until 11 o'clock Saturday, when word came that it was desired that Justice Stanford repeat his charge to them. This request was granted after brief argument of counsel, and the next hour and a half was occupied in rereading the charge, after which Justice Stanford, who, at ten o'clock Friday night had sent word to the jury room that it would be better at that time to drop consideration of the case and get some sleep, advised that the jury proceed to their luncheon before endeavoring to reach an agreement. The jury, however, disregarded this admonition, and within ten minutes after its second retirement appeared with the verdict of "not guilty."

There was immediately a general scene of congratulation in the court room. Mr. Hermann expressed his thanks to each juror, as did his counsel. United States Attorney Baker and many others in the court room congratulated the defendant.

FREE LOVE BRINGS DISASTER.

Property of Socialist Colony Ordered Sold for Debts.

Bellingham, Wash.—"Equality," a socialist colony established in 1897, and which for years was pointed to as a successful experiment in collective ownership and production, was wiped out of existence by a court order Wednesday, Judge Joyner, of Skagit county, directing that its property be sold to pay the colony's debts. The property consists of 600 acres of land, sawmill, printing plant and 20 dwellings.

The colony was established by a national organization known as the Brotherhood of the Co-Operative Commonwealth, of which many prominent socialists were members. A portion of the colonists adopted the doctrine of free love and disaster followed.

JUDGES OF CONTEST HAZED.

Tied to Trees by Displeased Freshmen of Shurtleff College.

Upper Alton, Ill.—Having decided in favor of the sophomores in an oratorical contest at Shurtleff college Thursday night, which decision was displeasing to the freshmen, Professor M. M. Mullan, of St. Louis, and E. M. Dey, general advertising agent for the Missouri Pacific system, two of the three judges, were seized by the freshmen, tied to trees on the campus and left helpless until morning.

FIRE FIGHTERS BLOWN UP.

Two Volunteers Killed and Eight Hurt Near St. Louis.

St. Louis.—Albert Zimmerman and John Becker were killed and eight men were injured Sunday at Luxemburg, a suburb of St. Louis, by an explosion of dynamite, while they were attempting to extinguish a fire in a small building. Several of the injured are in a serious condition.

Minnesota Solons Adjourn.

St. Paul, Minn.—The Minnesota legislature adjourned sine die at noon Wednesday. The actual business of the legislature was finished last night by the passing of a large number of bills and the meeting at noon Wednesday was for the purpose of passing a few minor resolutions. This legislature has passed a two-cent fare bill, an anti-pass bill and started what may be a searching investigation into the coal and lumber combinations.

Castro to Retire on May 23.

New York.—President Cipriano Castro, of Venezuela, according to information received in this city from two independent sources, is planning to retire from office on May 23. The reason is his continued ill health. He will seek recuperation in the mountains of Switzerland.

Bombs in Kaibara's Villa.

Odessa.—Sixteen bombs were discovered Sunday in a villa which Gov. Kaibara had rented for a summer residence.

ENGINE LEAPS INTO CREEK

PASSENGERS ON WABASH TRAIN HAVE MARVELOUS ESCAPE.

Engineer and Fireman Killed—All Cars But One Empty Stay on Trestle.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Two men were killed and 100 passengers had a thrilling escape from a like fate in a wreck on the Wabash railroad Sunday when the engine and one passenger coach of west-bound train No. 27 left the tracks half a mile west of the Bridgeville station near here and plunged into Charter Creek, 40 feet below.

The dead are: Marion, Boyd, engineer, of Rook Station, and Frank McIsaac, fireman, of Barborton, Ohio.

The train was made up of four passenger coaches. It was crossing a trestle over Charter Creek when the engine suddenly leaped from the rails and shot to the stream underneath, taking the first coach with it. The rear part of the engine sank several feet into the mud of the creek bed. The coach was smashed to splinters by its terrific impact with the locomotive.

By what the railroad men regard as little more than mere chance there were no passengers in the front coach. The coupling between it and the second coach was wrenched in two when it was torn from the trestle by the engine. None of those in the three rear coaches knew of the accident or realized how close they had come to death until several minutes afterward when the cars deprived of motive power, slackened their speed and came to a stop.

A new schedule went into effect on the road Sunday and to this fact many owe their lives. Under the new schedule train No. 27 left this city 45 minutes earlier and over 50 persons missed the train for this reason. On account of the reduced number of passengers all were placed in the three rear coaches.

The cause of the accident is thus far a mystery and the railroad officials will give out no statement until an investigation has been made.

STEEL CAR MEN ON STRIKE.

Rioters in Salt Lake City Stop Service Entirely.

Salt Lake City.—A strike was declared on the street car lines of the Utah Light & Railway company Sunday, 450 men walking out. Numerous scenes of disorder followed attempts made by the company to operate a few cars with non-union crews and all efforts to maintain even a partial service were soon abandoned. An end was put to the disturbances when a car marked "U. S. mail" was brought into action and towed the others back to the barns. No attempt was made to molest the mail car.

Dangerous Fire in Colon.

Colon.—Early Sunday morning fire broke out close to the Panama government's costly public buildings and only the arrival of the Cristobal fire brigade saved the entire portion of the city south of Sixth street.

Maude Harrison Dies Suddenly.

New York.—Maude Harrison, the actress, while alone in her apartments at the hotel Willard Sunday, was stricken with paralysis, and died a few hours later, without having regained consciousness.

Baptist Banner Editor Dying.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—Rev. J. D. Simmons, of this city, editor of the Baptist Banner, was found unconscious in his room at the Buchanan hotel suffering with apoplexy. He can not recover.

U. OF C. GETS $2,000,000 GIFT.

Rockefeller Presents School with Midway Plaisance Land.

Chicago.—Land valued at $2,000,000 has been given by John D. Rockefeller to the University of Chicago. Announcement of the gift caused rejoicing on the part of the student body and faculty of the institution.

The newly acquired property is a strip of land along the Midway Plaisance from Madison avenue to Cottage Grove avenue. Although bought at a cost of about $1,500,000 it is valued at $2,000,000 at the present time, according to Wallace Heckman, business agent of the university, and constitutes Mr. Rockefeller's richest gift of realty to the university. The property is 200 feet deep.

The new property will ultimately be used for the William R. Harper memorial library, the proposed schools of medicine and engineering, a new ball park and a general athletic field, which will be used in addition to Marshall field. According to President Harry Pratt Judson the land will suffice for the needs of the school for a generation.

By the present donation the total of Mr. Rockefeller's gifts to the university is brought to $21,316,922.

MAYOR SCHMITZ "SQUEALS."

Makes Partial Confession, Hoping for Reduced Sentence.

San Francisco.—Late Sunday night it was learned that Mayor Schmitz has weakened and, in the hope of securing immunity from punishment, or at least concessions in the way of a reduced sentence, has made a partial confession of his guilt of the charges of graft.

Detective Burns admitted that Schmitz had made a statement which sheds new and important light on the operations of the grafters, but would not give out the details. He said:

"Schmitz has made a partial confession in relation to the trolley deal and other matters. The negotiations for this statement were carried on with us by a high official of the city. Schmitz has admitted that previous to the granting of the trolley franchise he and other city officials reached an 'understanding' with President Calhoun."

BIG FIRE IN MINNEAPOLIS.

Wisconsin Central Freight Depot Burned—Loss $400,000.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Fire destroyed the Wisconsin Central freight depot in this city Thursday, entailing a loss of $400,000. The flames broke out from an unknown origin and almost in an instant the entire building was a mass of flames.

A strong northwest wind made the firemen's task a hard one, and the firemen fought the flames from every point of vantage, but were time and again forced back by explosions of oil on the tracks and in storage.

At 4:10 a terrific explosion occurred and with a roar the walls on the west side fell in, tearing down a large platform upon which the firemen had been stationed. Soon afterwards the east wall followed, covering up the passenger tracks entering the Union depot.

Stromboli Again Active.

Catania, Sicily.—The royal observatory on Mount Etna registers an extraordinary eruption of the volcano on the island Stromboli. The volcano is throwing out large quantities of ashes and clinders.

Torpedoes Exploded by Wireless.

Cartagena.—Successful experiments were made here Sunday in the explosion of torpedoes at long distance by means of the Hertzian waves system. The device was invented by a Spaniard named Balsera.

BOARD WILL FIGHT

OBJECTS TO SLASHING OF APPROPRIATION BILLS.

REFORMS ARE NEEDED

Money Asked for Absolutely Necessary to Stop Maladministration of State Institutions and County Almshouses.

Springfield.—Almost fatal slashing of the state board of charities appropriation bill, passed by the senate, has precipitated as grim a situation as Springfield has seen in several legislative generations. The board of charities is determined to force the fighting along this line to win the reforms which it proposed to stop the maladministration of state institutions and county almshouses. Throughout Illinois the board is known as "the best state ever had," and all politicians admit that there will be great strength in an appeal from Commissioners Emil G. Hirsch, Frank Billings, Julia Lathrop, John T. McAnally and Clara P. Bourland. With an aroused public opinion back of them the board and the governor undoubtedly can win the day. The appropriation bills cut by the senate from $2,660,916 to $1,880,702 are claimed by many to be the best measures of their class that have ever been presented to an Illinois assembly.

State Institutions Criticized.

Criticism of the sanitary conditions of the asylum for the criminal insane at Chester and of the penitentiary at Joliet is contained in a report of the senate committee to visit penal and reformatory institutions, by Chairman Henson of the committee. On conditions at Joliet the report says: "We visited the state penitentiary at Joliet and found the conditions most horrifying. We believe an careful inspection of the institution that the state should begin the removal of the institution from its present location immediately, because the sanitary condition, by reason of having practically no plumbing, sewerage, light or ventilation, makes it criminal for the state to maintain such institution." Of the building for the criminal insane the report says: "This building was certainly fearfully and wonderfully constructed. The foundation is very bad. The most of the material used in the construction of the building was of the very cheapest quality. The walls are very thin, in many places, much of the wall consists of soft plaster and all of the inside of the building is made of the most combustible material. The ceilings are very low and the ventilation as poor as can be."

"777" Is Passed, 93 to 33.

House bill 777, legalizing the merger of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad, which caused such a stir when on second reading, passed the house, 93 to 33. Mr. Hull, the principal objector when the measure was on second reading, withdrew his complaint against the bill and voted for it. Several other members, however, declared opposition to the measure. When Chairman Bush, of the railroad committee, called up the bill Mr. Hull made a statement from the floor. He said that he had opposed the bill until he was thoroughly satisfied as to its purpose. He believed that capital was entitled to the same protection as labor, and for that reason he favored the passage of the bill.

Employers to Record Deaths.

Senator Glackin introduced a bill providing for the reporting, compiling and publishing of information concerning accidents to and deaths by accident of all employees. The bill provides that it shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation employing laborers, artisans, mechanics, miners, clerks or any other employees of any character to make a report to the state bureau of labor statistics of every injury or death of every employee caused by accident while in the performance of any duty or service for such employer, within 30 days from the date of such injury or death. The state bureau of statistics is to publish a compilation of the figures at least once a year.

Divorce Bill Wins Approval.

The house committee on statutory revision reported out with a favorable recommendation senate bill 201, providing that no decree of divorce shall be granted until after the lapse of three months after default is entered or the appearance of the defendant. The bill is being urged by the Chicago Bar association.

State Will Resume I. C. Fight.

Attorney General Stead has begun suit in the circuit court of LaSalle county against the Illinois Central railroad for the $3,000,000 of back taxes alleged to be due the state from the railroad company. This is the case in which the supreme court held it had no jurisdiction.

Small Hope for Bank Reform.

There is only one banking bill on the house calendar and that bill contains nothing which will give any great benefit to depositors. Inasmuch as bankers are in thorough control of the house banking committee, where all other banking bills have been killed or laid aside, the only chance of getting action is by amendment of the pending bill.

Attempts are being made to put a little life into it and will be continued when the measure gets to a second reading, if it ever does.

County Almshouses Scored.

Appealing in the name of humanity and progress for the complete state care of mental defectives of Illinois, the state board of charities in a report submitted to Gov. Deneen discloses in detail appalling conditions surrounding the insane in county almshouses. Methods of caring for the insane are severely criticized, specific instances of barbaric treatment being recited. The text of the document is lengthy, consisting of 130,000 words. It is signed by Dr. Frank Billings, Emil G. Hirsch, Julia Lathrop, Dr. John T. Bourland and William C. Graves. The report contains a history of the care of the insane from the earliest times to the present, reviewing many horrors and closing with an attack upon the legislative plan to solve the problem of insanity in Illinois by building up one institution at the expense of the other six. The plans of the board of charities for new buildings and "curative treatment" at each of the seven institutions is shown provides enough additional room to empty all the almshouses except that of Cook county of their insane and to house and treat the normal increase of new cases during the next two years. Cook county, because of its modern hospital for the insane at Dunning, is not discussed in the report and does not figure in any of the computations. In referring to the memorial presented to the Illinois legislature 60 years ago by Miss Dorothy L. Dix, which resulted in the construction of the first state hospital for the insane at Jacksonville in 1847, the report asserts that some of the almshouse conditions are the same to-day as at that time. No blame is attached to any person or set of officials because the almshouse conditions in many instances are still unsatisfactory. It is argued that insanity is too great and difficult a problem for satisfactory solution by so small a governmental unit as a county. The problem necessarily requires in its solution the greater resources of the state.

Sues for Per Diem Claim.

In a petition for mandamus directed against State Auditor McCullough, filed in the circuit court, County Superintendent of Schools Charles F. Easterday asks that the court pass on a claim of $41, which he alleges is due him from the state for traveling expenses. The claim is based on that section of the school law which provides that superintendents shall receive one dollar a day for expenses while visiting rural schools. When his claim was sent into the auditor's office payment was refused on the ground that an act passed by the legislature in 1905 repealed that section of the law under which the claim is made. Easterday's contention is that the repeal did not affect the section which allows one dollar per day for expenses. It is a test suit. Should the court sustain Easterday the superintendents all over the state would be empowered to collect sums aggregating a large amount.

May Have Extra Session.

As the immediate result of a million dollar reduction in the charitable institutions appropriations Gov. Deneen called in the superintendents of state institutions and started a conference upon the upshot of which—upon the subsequent action of the legislature—depends the calling of a special session of the legislature after the adjournment of the present assembly. If it be determined by the superintendents and the state board of charities that the appropriations contained in the omnibus bill for charitable institutions now being put through the senate will not enable the administration to work out its scheme of needed reforms and if the legislature insists on passing the measure as it is, then the governor will veto the bill and call an extra session.

National Guard Bill Not Dead.

House bill 294, for organizing the Illinois National Guard into a division under the command of a major general and making other changes in the military code of the state, is not dead, as generally supposed. The house committee on military affairs, to which the measure was referred again after having been on first reading, voted to report it back to the house with the recommendation that it pass. Before this action was taken section 11, making it unlawful for employers to discharge men because of their connection with the National Guard, was eliminated. This question is to be considered in a separate bill to be sent in by the committee.

Audubon Society Fights Bill.

The Audubon society has come to the rescue of the crows in Illinois with a petition addressed to the senate and the governor which is aimed at the bill to put a bounty of 15 cents on each crow killed. The bill was introduced by Representative Harris and passed by the house. The petition voices objection to the bill on the ground that it lays the foundation for general evasion of the game laws and does not set forth the value of the crow in nature's system of economy.

To Stop Bank Clerks' Speculation.

Further protection of the banking business and of the public from the dangers of speculation on the part of those connected with banking institutions is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Tiffany. Tiffany's bill provides that any person employed as a clerk or teller by any bank who shall engage in any other business while so employed shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. A fine not exceeding $500 is provided as punishment for each offense against the proposed law.

Pe-ru-na Relieves Spring Catarrh.

MISS DORA HAYDEN.

"Without hesitation I write to thank you for the great relief I have found in your valuable medicine, Peruna, and will call the attention of all my friends suffering with catarrh to that fact. Besides I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with catarrh in any form."—Miss Dora Hayden, 819 6th St., S. W., Washington, D. C.

A Case of Spring Catarrh.

Mrs. N. P. Lawler, 423 1/2 N. Broadway, Pittsburg, Kas., writes: "Last spring I caught a severe cold, which developed into a serious case of catarrh. I felt weak and sick, and could neither eat nor sleep well."

"A member of our club who had been cured of catarrh through the use of Peruna advised me to try it, and I did so at once. I expected help, but nothing like the wonderful change for the better I observed almost as soon as I started taking it. In three days I felt much better, and within two weeks I was in fine health. Peruna is a wonderful medicine."

Fighting with Ants.

The Indians of the Mauritius dispose of termites, or white ants, in this manner: When they see their covered way approaching a building, they drop a train of syrup from this way to the nearest nest of black ants. The first ones that see the syrup follow it up till they reach the termite passage. They return to their nest, and in a few hours a black army starts out for the white ant stronghold. With great fury they rush into the galleries, and in a short time entirely destroy the enemy, and each one, on its way home, carries a dead termite, probably to eat.

The Eternal Feminine.

The sons of men rule the world, but the daughters of men govern it through them. It is woman who founds society in its artificial aspects. It is woman who creates class distinctions and insists on maintaining them. It is woman who imbues man with desire to emulate, who instills into him social ambition that inevitably brings in its train the restless fever of acquisition, the madness of greed, the ambition for power through financial success. It is woman who is at once the social bulwark, the autocrat and the snob.—Woman's Life.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. ## SLAIN BY HER LOVER

GIRL KILLED IN PHILADELPHIA FOR REFUSING TO WED.

MAN THEN WOUNDS SELF

He Had Attempted to Murder Her in Prussia and Followed Her to This Country.

Philadelphia.—Martha Korals, a comely Prussian girl, was shot and instantly killed here Monday under unusual circumstances by Franz Endrukut, an enraged lover, who after murdering the girl, sent a bullet into his own brain, inflicting a wound from which he cannot recover.

Endrukut, who was angry because the girl would not marry him, followed her to this country from the province of Pomerania, in Rhenish Prussia, where four years ago he attempted to kill her by beating her over the head with a hatchet. After this attempt he cut his throat in an effort to end his life, and after lying for four months in a hospital, according to the information given to the coroner, he was sentenced to one year and eight months' imprisonment. How he got into this country with a penal record has not been ascertained.

After the assault in Europe, Miss Korals, who was the daughter of a physician and a school teacher, came to Philadelphia. Endrukut, despite the refusal of the girl to marry him in his native country, followed her to America and to Philadelphia. He went to work at Cramps' ship yards and boarded in the northern section of the city. Miss Korals secured a place as maid in the home of August Ramstein, in the southern section of the city.

Endrukut Monday met Miss Korals and followed her from the home of her employer to a nearby bakery and again pressed his suit. The girl told him she would sooner die than marry him, whereupon he drew a revolver and sent two bullets into her brain. He then turned the weapon upon himself and sent one of the leaden missiles into his head, falling unconscious across the body of the girl. Endrukut is 33 years of age and his victim was 22.

PACKERS MUST PAY FINES.

Federal Court of Appeals Upholds Conviction for Rebating.

St. Paul, Minn.—Judge Sanborn Monday filed the opinion of the United States circuit court of appeals, which he had written, affirming the judgment of the United States district court for the western district of Missouri against the packers for accepting concessions of 12 cents a hundred pounds from the portion of the established rate for the transportation of provisions on through bills of lading from Kansas City to Christiana and other points in foreign countries. Judges Hook and Adams concur in the opinion.

The lower court imposed a penalty of $15,000 on each of the indicted firms, and these fines have been affirmed.

The defendants in the case involved in the decision are Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Packing company.

SHEEP CAMP DYNAMITED.

Seven Hundred Animals Perish in a Fire in Cheyenne, Wyo.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—An explosion of dynamite at John Linn's sheep camp in Trapper Creek, Big Horn county, Sunday night, killed 700 sheep and completely destroyed camp wagons and other possessions of the camp. The story of the outrage was told by a herder who said that a band of masked men riddled the camp and after blinding him securely arranged for the work of destruction.

T. V. Halsey Brought Back for Trial. Honolulu.—Theodore V. Justice Geo. E. Law, of Brazil, Ind., has fairly earned the title "The Marrying Squire," by which he is known far and wide, having already married some 1400 couples. Ten years ago he was Deputy County Treasurer. "At that time," said Justice Law, "I was suffering from an annoying kidney trouble. My back ached, my rest was broken at night, and the passages of the kidney secretions were too frequent and contained sediment. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me in 1897, and for the past nine years I have been free from kidney complaint and backache."

STUDENT MADE HIS POINT.

No Doubt the Policeman Understood What He Meant.

W. H. Mallock, the well-known English writer and political economist, said at a dinner in New York, apropos of a new definition of socialism: "I find that definition rather confusing. It reminds me of the young Oxford student's badinage with the policeman. 'Officer,' said the youth late one night, 'I'd like to ask you a question.' 'Very well, sir.' 'Does the law permit me to call you an ass?' 'You move on,' the officer growled. 'But stop a bit,' continued the youth. 'Does the law permit me to call an ass a policeman?' 'The law don't say nothing about that,' was the gruff reply. 'Then,' said the youth, 'good-night, Mr. Policeman.'"

Awful Humor Eating Away Face—Body a Mass of Sores—Cuticura Cures in Two Weeks.

"My little daughter broke out all over her body with a humor, and we used everything recommended, but without results. I called in three doctors, but she continued to grow worse. Her body was a mass of sores, and her little face was being eaten away. Her ears looked as if they would drop off. Neighbors advised me to get Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and before I had used half of the cake of Soap and box of Ointment the sores had all healed, and my little one's face and body were as clear as a new-born babe's. I would not be without it again! It cost five dollars, instead of seventy-five cents. Mrs. George J. Steese, 701 Coburn St., Akron, O., Aug. 30, 1905."

IN WESTERN CANADA.

Delicate in the Old Home; Better Health in the New.

Churchbridge, Sask., December 1st, 1906.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,
I came to this country from the State of Wisconsin three years ago, and must say that I am greatly pleased with the outlook in this western country. For my own part I am entirely satisfied with the progress I have made since coming here. I have raised excellent crops of grain of all varieties. Last season my wheat averaged 23 bushels of wheat to the acre, oats 60 and barley 40.

We had a splendid garden this year, ripening successfully tomatoes, muskmelons, water melons, sweet corn and kindred sorts.

The country is well adapted to wheat growing and mixed farming, and to my mind it is the best country under the sun for a man with a family and small means, as it is possible for a man to commence farming operations with much less capital than is required in the older settled countries. The climate is all that could be desired, being very healthy and invigorating.

My wife came out about six months ago, and although inclined to be delicate in the old home, she has enjoyed the best of health since coming here.

In short, I am more than satisfied with the land of my adoption, and I am also satisfied with the laws of the country.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) JOHN LANGDON.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicine. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and diseases, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast volume of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

PANTIOCH NEWS.
ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS.
A REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER.
PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY
A. H. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor
By Mail, One Dollar per Year, in Advance.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
The "Antioch Advertiser" is the name of a new semi-weekly newspaper which made its appearance on Tuesday of this week, with the name of M. J. Weber as editor and publisher. The paper is neatly gotten up and carries a goodly number of local advertisements and will be independent in politics. We extend the usual fraternal courtesies and wish the editor a prosperous voyage on the troubled waters of the journalistic river.

Seeing that the country as a whole is not ready to accept his advanced views on government ownership of railroads, Mr. Bryan has come around exactly to the views of President Roosevelt as to government control. Mr. Bryan has made this statement in an authorized interview, evidently in the hope that it will increase his personal prestige and obliterate the last remnant of difference between himself and the leader of the Republican party. There lingers back of his change of front, however, a radical threat. He would have the railroads valued exactly on the basis of the money that has been put into them, allowing nothing for the natural appreciation of land values. With railroad rates fixed on this basis of valuation, passenger and freight charges would be immensely cheapened. But there is a serious question whether such a violent upsetting of established values would not throw the country into a financial panic that would be infinitely worse than the present freight rates, even though, as most shippers know to their sorrow, these rates are frequently extortionate in the extreme.

What looks like the first practical step in the reduction of the world's armament has been made in the shape of a suggestion from President Roosevelt that will be carried by the American delegates to the second Hague conference. It is a very short step to be sure, but one that for that very reason will stand some chance of being taken. It is to limit in the future the size of any warships added to the navies of the world. The race in the number of warships has been supplemented by a race in size. The British Dreadnought and her sister ships of 20,000 tons are the latest if not the last work in monster fighting machines afloat. True this government has met the step of Great Britain by authorizing the construction of two ships that will be the equals, if not the superiors of the Dreadnought class. But President Roosevelt realizes the futility of this endless competition, and if his suggestion is carried out, there will be no more 20,000 ton warships built by any power. If this rational move is made, and there seems little doubt that it will be, then there may be a chance of getting a reduction in size of the war budgets under which, the people of Europe are groaning and which even this country has commenced to feel. If the President can initiate this sensible policy, the people of the whole world will have cause to honor his name for all time.

It is sadly discouraging that after all the trouble Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Dr. Wiley, chief chemist and food expert of the department, have taken in getting a pure food law passed, that they should be confronted with natural obstacles that even the majesty of the department cannot overcome, and that can hardly be hauled into court and prosecuted. It has all arisen from the perversity of the ladies, but get rid of the disease which is the cause of most of woman's nervousness, viz., female trouble. "I was very nervous," writes Mrs. T. L. Jones, of Gallatin, Tenn., "and suffered six years with every disease peculiar to my sex. I had headache, backache, and acute female inflammation. I took three bottles of Cardui and it cured me. I gained 35 pounds in weight. I tell my husband that bees in Hawaii, and the chief entomologist, Dr. Van Dine of the experiment station who is now on his way to Washington to consult about it. When the pure food law was passed, certain standards of purity were set up that might not be transgressed. One of these dealt with the amount of glucose in pure honey. The department decreed that there should be only so many milligrams or centigrams or something else of glucose in pure honey. But Dr. Van Dine has discovered that Hawaiian bees make honey with more glucose in it than is allowed by the department of agriculture, and he is now on his way to Washington to get the matter straightened out. Honey is an important export from the islands, and as there seems no way of reforming the depraved Hawaiian bees, it looks as though the standard of the department would have to be changed. Of course, nature was wrong and Secretary Wilson was right about pure food, but as there is no way of getting at nature, it looks as though the secretary would have to reverse himself.

A Narrow Escape.
G. W. Cloyd, a merchant, of Plank, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at J. H. Swan's druggist.

Let me mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Address me, Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. Troubles of the stomach, heart or kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means stomach weakness, always. And the heart, and kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write for my free book now. Dr. Shoop's Restorative sold by all dealers.

Vaillant 20844 is a coal black, small star, one white hind foot; he will weigh over 1900 pounds and has more quality, smoother finish, trappier action and more size with the best of feet, clean, flat, heavy bone, better breast, hip and back than any horse you can find in this country. He is the sire of heavy, smooth finish and heavy boned colts. Anyone wishing to breed to such a horse will do well to see this horse before engaging their mares. He has been examined in the department of horse breeding of the College of Agriculture and is certified the said stallion is of pure breeding and sound and is registered in a stud book recognized by the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., W. A. HENRY, Dean of the College of Agriculture. A. S. ALEXANDER, in charge of department of horse breeding at Madison, Wis.

He will be traveled from April 22nd to August 1st at $15.00 to insure mare with foal, or two mares at $27.50. Parties parting with mares, insurance becomes due and payable at once.

An exchange says that Fred Busse, Chicago's new mayor has announced that he will appoint only good men to office, then goes on to say that with only Chicago to choose from he will have the time of his life in making the appointments. But we don't know, Chicago isn't always as black as it is painted, and there may be some good ones there yet.

It is stated that so numerous and annoying has become the custom, in Waukegan, of sending comic and even slanderous postal cards through the mail, that some people who are so frequently the "victims" have been entering complaints, and the matter is now under investigation. And some Waukegan authorities state that if the practice is not discontinued it may result seriously for those who employ this method of "knocking."

Zion City is still to retain control of its lace factory. It had been deemed advisable to dispose of it to some outside management, and negotiations were opened with Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago, who were willing to make the purchase. But before the necessary papers were signed, enough capital had been raised by the Zionites to enable them to retain control of the industry, and carry on the business which they claim if properly managed promises large dividends in the near future.

There is consternation among the barbers of England over the invention by a Londoner named Witherington, of a paste which removes the beard in ten minutes without the use of a razor. The paste makes the hair so brittle that it can be rubbed off clean with a wet sponge. No skin trouble follows and the performance is simply a part of washing the face on arising in the morning. This does away with the barber and second man to brush one's hat and ask with his manner for a tip. The cost is about 1 cent a shave.

Superstition and Religion.
Superstition is related to this life, religion to the next; superstition is allied to fatality, religion to virtue; it is by the vivacity of earthly desires that we become superstitious; it is, on the contrary, by the sacrifice of these desires that we become religious.—Madame de Staël (1768-1817).

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism. Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.
In Germany—a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism (but now, at last, I found the cure for all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic Blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

Fake Coins in Ofterory.
Clergymen in Scotland have been disconcerted recently on discovering imitation money, made of silvered pasteboard and looking like shillings, in the ofterory on Sundays. One minister says that no one "can quarrel with the ingenuity displayed in the manufacture of these 'coins.' They are absolutely perfect—to look at."

When your food has not been properly digested the entire system is impaired in the same proportion. Your stomach needs help. Kodol for indigestion and dyspepsia not only digests what you eat, it tones the stomach and adds strength to the whole body. Makes rich, pure blood. Kodol conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by J. H. Swan.

China's Code.
The strong web of immemorial custom and of a traditional code of ethics would seem to be the chief ties which keep the Chinese fast in the social and political frame that has come down to them. The frame shows signs of creaking. Who will say what may happen, were it to give way? The present system—the system of government by the Manchus and an unregenerate Mandarinry—is, we are told, doomed.

VIEWS OF A DISSENTER

Justice Carter's Reasons for Disagreeing on the State Official Fee Decision.

THUGS IN THE WRONG DOMICILE

Owner and His Wife Were Alert—Mrs. Chester's Death Laid to the Hotelkeeper.

Springfield, Ill., April 30.—Justice Carter, of the supreme court, has filed his dissenting opinion in the case in which the supreme court held that the state treasurers and state auditors must pay to the state the fees which they received as commissions for collecting for the bondholders and paying to them the interest on county, city, township and district bonds. Judge Carter calls attention to the decisions of the supreme court in other cases. He says in part:

There Are Other Considerations.
"I do not concur in this decision. If the determination of the case depended upon the language of the constitution and the statute itself there could be little doubt that the conclusion reached by the court was correct, but other considerations enter into this decision. The statutory and constitutional provisions now under consideration differ somewhat from the wording of the statutes and the provisions of the constitution passed upon in Nye vs. Foreman, 215 Illinois 236, and Cook county vs. Henly, 222 Illinois 310; but here, as there, the public officials concerned with the enactment and enforcement of the statute have by contemporaneous, long, uniform and practical construction accepted and acted upon the law as having a definite and particular meaning; here, as there, great injury and injustice will follow a change in such construction and meaning.

Construction Was in Good Faith.
"All the facts and circumstances indicate that the construction placed upon this statute during forty years by those charged with its enforcement has been in good faith, with the full belief that not only the letter but the spirit of the law was being observed. In some jurisdictions long continued, contemporaneous and practical construction by the legislative and executive departments has been followed, even though the courts believed the language under consideration clear and unambiguous.

Never Before Been Challenged.
"This court has stated that such construction will govern only where the language of the statute is doubtful; yet an examination of the decision in this state will disclose that in almost every instance such contemporaneous, uniform and long continued construction by public officials in the execution of the law has been followed by this court. From the time this statute was enacted, in 1805, the construction placed upon it by state treasurers, state auditors and other public officials has never been challenged by any citizen or any department of the state government until the institution of these proceedings."

GOT THE DROP ON THEM

Farmer and His Wife Capture Two Thugs Who Entered Their Home to Rob.

Waterloo, Ill., April 30.—Assisted by his wife, Christian Wirth, a St. Clair county farmer, captured two men who had effected entrance into his house, and then with a leveled shotgun Mr. and Mrs. Wirth marched the two captives five miles to Waterloo and delivered them into the custody of the sheriff. The prisoners gave their names as Harper Glette and E. Sutton from Indiana. In searching them the sheriff found each carried a revolver. They are charged with burglary.

Farmer Wirth stated that he had surprised the nocturnal visitors, and got the drop on them with a shotgun. He held the drop on them until his wife had dressed, and then she in turn held the shotgun while her husband dressed. Having completed their toilette, they locked up the house and marched their prisoners to jail.

Lays It to the Hotel Man.

Peoria, Ill., April 30.—The coroner's jury holding an investigation over the death of Mrs. Mate Chester, grand secretary of the Eastern Star, who was killed through the carelessness of the elevator boy at the Mayer hotel, placed the responsibility on David Mayer, proprietor of the hotel. The jury charged him with employing incompetent and inexperienced boys under the age required by law.

Contests His Rival's Election.

Jacksonville, Ill., April 30.—O. H. Wiamayer, Democratic candidate for mayor at the last election here, has filed papers in the circuit court contesting the election of John R. Davis, Republican, whose majority was 21. Wiamayer charges violation of the election laws. It is alleged that felons, residents and foreigners were voted.

ding of deep interest to society of Bloomington will be celebrated today, the principals being Miss Mary Lucy Probasco, of this city, and D. J. Vanness, of Chicago.

Auto Costs Him a Leg.
Peoria, Ill., April 30.—R. J. Case, a wholesale druggist who was hurt in an automobile accident, will have his leg amputated.

Sees No Other Way.
Chauncey Olcott possesses that rare gift, a broad sense of humor of things in everyday life. He relates through an exchange the following incident which fell under his observation while traveling through the bituminous coal regions of Pennsylvania.

A large, motherly looking woman in a department store said to a shop girl:
"I want to get a pair of gloves for my Jim. He's going to a ball."
"Yes, madam," said the girl, producing white kid gloves. "This is the kind, I suppose?"
"Them!" cried the woman. "Goodness, no. They'd be too good. My Jim's got a hand like a shoulder of mutton. Besides, they're too dear. Haven't you got something like the policemen wear—at about 15 cents?"
The clerk smilingly regretted that they did not keep that kind.
"Oh, very well," the old party replied, "there's no help for it—Jim'll have to wash his hands, after all."

NEW NAME FOR INDIAN CORN.

Englishman's Description of Succulent Vegetable.

A lady reader of the Washington Post tells a pretty little story of an Englishman's new name for corn.

An Englishman and his wife sat near me in a cafe on the avenue the day before yesterday. I knew they were English as soon as I saw his coat and her hair. Even if I had not seen these two unmistakably English things, I should have guessed their nationality from a name they gave to an American dish. The man was ordering luncheon.

"I don't see it on the bill of fare," he said to the waiter, "but bring me some fute corn if you have it."
"Fute corn?" repeated the waiter, in surprise.

"Yes," said the Englishman, "fute corn."
The waiter still hesitated.

"Why," went on the Englishman, "don't you have it? The sort of corn, you know, that one eats like playing the flute."

And as a delicate euphemism for corn on the cob, I think "fute corn" can hardly be surpassed.

BLACK PEOPLE IN PERSIA.

Their Presence Is a Puzzle to Learned Ethnologists.

One of the "research men" of the Carnegie Institute at Washington, now traveling in the east, has made an interesting report with reference to the existence in ancient Persia of a race of black-skinned men, who possessed features resembling those of Africans.

The origin of these people, as well as their apparent disappearance in modern times, have furnished puzzling questions for ethnologists for a great many years. Some have supposed that in prehistoric times the greater part of southern Asia was occupied by a primitive black race, of which only vestiges remained when the empires of Babylon and Assyria arose. Later, descendants of the black man who figured in the early history of Persia are believed to have been found by the Russian explorer, Dr. Daniloff, dwelling among the mountains near Shiraz, east of the Persian gulf.

These people, although they still form an independent group, mingle with the surrounding population, as in ancient times, and find employment at long distances from their home. Some of them are to be seen in the city of Teheran.

Jury Paid the Fine.

A Texas correspondent tells how an obstinate jurymen was circumvented by his fellow-judges of the facts. The offense charged was assault with intent to murder. After the jury had been out about two hours it returned the following verdict: "We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of aggravated assault, and assess his punishment as $25 fine and herewith pay the fine." On inquiry as to the meaning of the last clause of the verdict it came out that 11 of the jurors had agreed that the defendant was not guilty, but the twelfth doggedly hung out for a conviction for aggravated assault and would not consent to a punishment less than a fine of $25. Finding it a hopeless task to bring over the obstinate one to their way of thinking, the eleven finally decided to agree with him and "chipped in" enough to pay the fine.

Horse Has Small Stomach.
In proportion to its size, the horse has the smallest stomach of any quadruped.

A WIDOW and A WIDOWER

[Copyright, 1906, by McClure, Phillips & Co.]
They looked upon Aaron Turner at the family hotel in Paris where he was stopping as something of a curiosity. He did not look at all like the man who travels. On the contrary, they set him down as a tiller of the soil and wondered how he had ever found his way across the Atlantic. He was slow moving and slow spoken, with what seemed a religious turn of mind.

They had looked to see Mr. Turner register as "Judge" or "General," and they had expected him to boast of his herds of cattle in Montana or his oil wells in Texas, but he had disappointed them. His name went down as plain Aaron Turner. After a week or so it came to be understood that he was a widower, having lost his dearly beloved about a year before.

When plain Mrs. John Gates arrived at the same hotel a few days later than plain Aaron Turner, she also proved to be something of an enigma. She had diamonds and no style. She was dressed in mourning and was often found with tears in her eyes.

In due time, which in this case meant two days after her arrival, the widow Gates was sought out by plain Mr. Turner. His first excuse for presenting himself before her was that both were Americans. His second was that both had lost their beloved partners and that there should be a bond of sympathy between them.

The tearful widow Gates was also communicative. She had made the trip with her husband in the hope that it would improve his left lung. It had been hard scraping to get the money together, and the last $10 had been raised on the family sewing machine. Just as the lung seemed to be growing better her dear departed had been taken off with typhoid fever and buried among a race of people who drank absinthe instead of buttermilk and who shrugged their shoulders instead of swearing right out. She resorted to tears as she finished her plaint. Mr. Turner spoke consoling words. He reminded her that in the midst of life we were in death and that human nature was so constituted that it could not go on grieving forever. As a matter of fact, the widow felt chirped up when he took his departure, and during the next two weeks they were often seen together. They became quite confidential before the widower decided to trust the widow with a secret. He wanted to do something for the minister and the Sunday school class at home. Deacon Pogram would be expecting some sort of a present, and there was his sister, who kept house for him. Taken altogether, he would be expected to make a score of presents. While none of them would be of great value, each one would be cherished for the sake of the giver. As the two were going home on the same steamer and as he had only a small trunk with him, would the widow kindly take charge of the packages as he brought them to her?

The widow would and did. While she was financially hard up, she was also buying a few presents, and all could go into her trunk together. The two did not go out together or shop together. For some reason they didn't propose such a thing, although it would have been perfectly proper. The Frenchmen realized that it would have been proper, and when it didn't occur they shrugged their shoulders and muttered something about American eccentricity. By and by, sailing day came, and the widow and the widower took the train for Havre and found themselves on board of their steamer. They were hardly settled when the widower made a proposition. There was nothing matrimonial about it. He had discovered that there was a passenger on board who knew him, and if he was seen acting as escort to the widow there would be talk about it at home. He therefore proposed that they should seem to be strangers for the voyage.

The widow was agreeable. She also had a reputation to preserve. On landing in New York she would go to a certain hotel, and the widower would call there and say farewell and receive his presents. As neither had brought along anything dutiable, there would be no trouble at the customs house. Things were settled this way, and no one aboard came to know that plain Mr. Turner and plain Mrs. Gates had spoken words of consolation to each other on the soil of France. It was only when the steamer had sighted Sandy Hook that the widower looked at the widow in a peculiar way. She interpreted it to mean that the customs house officers would soon be aboard and asking for declarations, and she returned his look with one calculated to put him at his ease. Plain Mr. Turner was one of the first ones ashore when the steamer docked. He had nothing to do but to disappear. As the widow Gates had a mournful and innocent look, the inspector passed her baggage after a perfunctory inspection, and then she disappeared.

Two hours later the widower called at the hotel agreed upon. There was no widow there. He called again and again. He called until he learned from a clerk that the customs officials were after a woman who had smuggled $15,000 worth of furs and silks on her own account and $30,000 worth of diamonds on account of a "pal," and then he made himself scarce. He was on a still hunt for the woman for the next three months, but he didn't find her. They were both liars and deceivers and smugglers. It was a case of dog eat dog, and the big dog had been eaten.

ALL THE WORLD TO HIM.

Wife and Child Beautiful in the Eyes of Poor Miner.

It was Sunday. The train stopped at a station. They got on—a woman and a little boy. The woman was a foreigner. She wore a cheap blue calico dress and a soiled apron, had a handkerchief around her head. She was ugly and fat. She carried a small-sized trunk, tied with rope in one hand, with the other she grasped the little boy as if afraid to lose him. He wore a cheap cotton suit, a little cap on his head and heavy-soled shoes on his feet. His face was red and shining. The brakeman hustled them through the aisle of the day coach to the smoker ahead. The passengers laughed at the odd sight, and several passed funny remarks. Some hours after the train stopped at a lonely coal mine station. Only the woman and the little boy got off. They were met by a poor Slav coal miner, in his working clothes. He kissed the woman and grabbed the little boy and hugged him with tears in his eyes. God! he was happy—they had come at last! —New York Telegraph.

COOKING BY ALARM CLOCK.

St. Louis Housekeeper Makes a Discovery of Great Value.

A housekeeper of this city has a great idea. As everybody knows, different kinds of victuals require different times for cooking, and one of the bothers of a housekeeper's life is to remember when she puts on the different things and when they ought to come off. This woman has an alarm clock, and after she puts on dinner she sets her alarm for 20 minutes later, and when it goes off it tells her the rice is done.

She takes off the rice, winds up her alarm and sets it for 25 minutes, when it announces that the peas are ready. The process is repeated and 15 minutes later the alarm clock tells her and the neighbors that the turkey ought to come out of the oven. As housekeepers like to have everything done at once and the whole meal fresh from the stove, it also suggests when to put on as well as to take off things, so as to have all ready at the same time, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Some of her friends insinuate that it would be easier to remember to put on and take off her victuals at the proper time than to spend half an hour a day winding up an alarm clock, but she says that after setting her apparatus she can run upstairs and make up a bed or go out to the fence and talk with a friend without feeling the slightest uneasiness while the clock is on duty, and, besides, she thinks there are a great many unprogressive people in the world who do not appreciate a brand-new idea when they see it.

PICKS FLAWS IN THE STORY.

Naturalist Comments on Tale of Python Devouring a Tiger.

A thrilling narrative which was published recently by a well-known magazine told how the author was chased into a tree by a tiger and there found a python awaiting him.

The tiger began to climb the tree and while the python was engaged with a parrot the author crawled along a sloping branch. When the python returned to the place where it had left the writer it found in its stead the tiger, which, according to the story, was almost a full-grown man-eater.

It then describes how the python seized and strangled the tiger, and after crushing its body into a pulp was in the act of swallowing it when the author, having descended the tree and regained his rifle, shot it.

The story is authenticated by the author's sworn statement, but according to Dr. Blandford of the zoological society and other eminent naturalists, tigers in the first place do not climb trees; secondly, do not exist in Ceylon, and thirdly, when immature do not attack human beings unless they are wounded. In addition, pythons, according to Dr. Gunther, are unable to swallow anything larger than a half-grown sheep.

Going One Better.

"Let me present you to my husband," said the fashionable leader of society as she reached for the bell. "Er—pardon me," said the caller, "but it might not be congenial. I met your better half two years ago and we had a little misunderstanding." "Oh, but this is my new husband." "Ah, that is different. Then you have had a better husband."

Careers of Sporting Notables

A. H. Soden of Boston, Just Retired, Famous in Baseball Thirty Years.

Harry G. Taylor's Great Year's Record as Amateur Trap Shooter.

Arthur H. Soden, the just retired president of the Boston National Baseball league club, was the dean of all baseball magnates, as he was the only man in the history of the national game who had been continuously and actively connected with one club for over thirty years.

His history is the history of the grand old national league, as he first became connected with the Boston club in 1876, the first year of the National league, the oldest baseball organization in the country. From that time to 1906 Mr. Soden had always kept his club in good financial shape, had participated in all the great baseball movements of a quarter of a century and had always been a forceful and respected figure in the sport and a strong pillar in the National league.

ARTHUR H. SODEN, BOSTON HALL MAGNATE, WHO HAS RETIRED.

Harry C. Pulliam, president of the National league, recently referred to President Arthur H. Soden of the Boston National league club as the best sportsman in the business. He said— and truthfully—that the owners of the Boston club, at the suggestion of Mr. Soden, had come forward on more than one occasion with tens of thousands of dollars to aid the National league in a crisis and that in large financial matters they were most liberal. Mr. Soden is said to be a millionaire in a financial way, having been engaged all his long life in great business enterprises outside of baseball. He is honest to the core, backs up his word in anything he says and has never been known to even cause the slightest worry to a friend to whom he had pledged himself. Mr. Soden is a native of West Newton, Mass., and is now well in the sixties. May he live a full hundred years!

Harry G. Taylor has been a prominent figure in the amateur ranks of trap shooters for more seasons than this one about to close, though naturally he is better known in the west than in the east. Mr. Taylor maintained a steady high average during 1906. At the western handicap in August he he scored 82 and 84 in the two distance handicaps from twenty and nineteen yards respectively.

The same month at Hot Springs, S. D., where the shooting suffered peculiarly hard conditions, he again took high amateur average, being second to the only W. H. Heer, who won the professional honors. First averages at Marshalltown, Ia., and Bloomfield, Neb., are among his recent wins.

Prince in Pajamas.

Passengers on the Overland limit ed one morning were startled by the appearance in the dining car of Prince Mahomed Agakhan of India wearing a suit of pajamas, says the San Francisco Call. The young nobleman had taken his seat at one of the tables when his secretary stepped up to him and whispered several words in his ear. The dining car was well filled with other passengers, including a number of women, who were shocked somewhat by the Prince's apparel. As gracefully as possible Prince Mahomed accompanied his secretary back to his stateroom. He was much chagrined over the situation and expressed great mortification that the American women could not appreciate that by right of birth he was entitled to appear in any garb he chose to wear.

KNEW WHAT MONKS WERE.

But Unfortunately Henry's Knowledge Embarrassed His Teacher.

At one time, while teaching school in Goshen, I had been telling the children all about the monks of St. Bernard, and flattered myself that I had made quite an impression, says a writer in the Boston Herald. The next day, the school visitor being present, I took the opportunity of showing the children off, and attempted to get them to tell the story of the previous day, but to my horror they displayed the profoundest ignorance of the subject.

I tried vainly to give them hints by judicious questioning, but it was not until in desperation I said: "It was about monks, you know. I'm sure you all know what monks are," that I saw a flash of intelligence on one face, while one small arm waved frantically.

"Well, Henry, you tell us what monks are," I said.

"Them little things that runs along stone walls," was the prompt reply.

He Told Too Much.

Sing-Lung, a California laundryman, who went home last year after making $1,000 at his trade, happened to live in a village where the people knew little of the outside world.

When Sing-Lung told them of the trolley cars in America they said to one another that he was crazy. When he told them of the telephone they called him a liar. When he told them of the electric light it was decided that he was a dangerous man to have around, and so he was arrested and beheaded. In China they believe only what they see, and sometimes not then.

Silas Ormsby's Solution.

A few years ago a party of seafaring men were standing near Tucker's wharf, in Marblehead, Mass., looking admiringly at a new schooner that had that morning entered the harbor. Her tall masts were as smooth as glass, and her rigging and spotless deck looked inviting.

A young sailor named Ben Longsby was in the group, and had been looking with envious eyes at the trim craft. Presently up strode old Silas Ormsby, the town's oracle and sheriff, and took a seat on a water cask.

Ben turned around to old Silas and said: "Now see here, Silas, what is the reason, I'd like to know, they all speak of a ship as she?"

Silas cocked his eye, rubbed his chin, and casting a quick glance at the trim vessel, replied: "I suspect, Ben, it's because it costs so much to rig her."

King Edward's Chef.

King Edward's chef, M. Manager, has a salary of $9,000 a year, besides free lodging near the palace. He does nothing in connection with breakfast, but devotes his attention to preparing dinner, which is served at nine o'clock. Menus are furnished by the official known as master of the household, and after dinner M. Manager presents his bill, which is always paid on the spot.

Ruler an Expert Cook.

Habibullah Khan is ameer of Afghanistan. His principal amusement is cooking, and this is general with all other men of the country. It is said that he can cook better than those appointed for the work. Fridays are usually devoted to this amusement, all his retinue helping in the preparation of the viands, which, when cooked, they sit down and eat together.

Bears at Hibernating Time.

Many bears that hibernate dig into a hillside to find a neat, but for a mild winter they are likely to roll up in some shallow excavation or a hot log tree.

Another Glorious Low Price Carnival

2nd ANNIVERSARY

SEVEN DAYS
 Saturday, May 4
 TO

STRONG and sturdy as the oak has this firm grown in two short years. From a humble beginning, a modest stock, but excellent, each day has this firm taken stronger root in the favor of the people. We have endeavored to make the name of this firm a household word in both Lake County and Kenosha, well and favorably known among you. How well we have succeeded is best attested by the fact that thousands of discriminating women are our staunchest champions--our champions because they have learned that truth and sincerity in all business dealings is our foremost thought. It has been the secret of our magnificent success. It is our theory that the public wants to trust its merchant as it would a true friend--one whose every promise, spoken, printed or implied can be implicitly relied upon. Absolute honesty, strict integrity, generous treatment, satisfaction guaranteed to all, these are the lines on which we have striven for success. We have endeavored to serve the public faithfully. If you think we have succeeded, tell your friends; if not, tell us wherein we have failed.

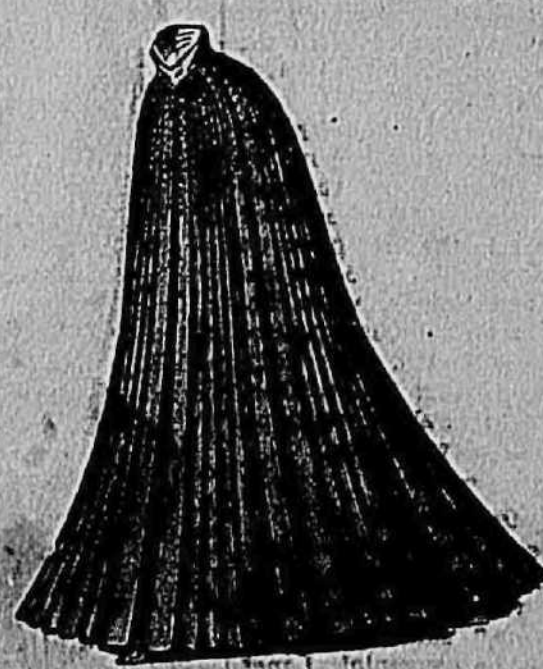

It is not by argument but by achievement that we desire to convince--"deeds, not words." And as a fitting celebration of our second anniversary, we present herewith eloquent yet silent proof of achievement--values that bear within themselves evidence of the most convincing nature--each item giving ample reason for the popularity of this store with women who appreciate style, quality, low prices and an unexcelled stock from which to select.

Invite your friends to attend this great Anniversary Sale with you! Their visit will prove pleasant and profitable to them.

ALTERATION DEPARTMENT--The alteration department in this store is in charge of a most skilled tailor, and all alterations are made promptly and without charge, insuring a PERFECT FIT IN EVERY INSTANCE. During our Anniversary Sale ample help will be provided in this department so that in nine cases out of ten, if an alteration is needed, it can be made before you leave the store, but in case it is not possible to do this we will pay all forwarding charges on packages sent to out-of-town customers and deliver by messenger to those residing in Waukegan. The prompt and excellent service in this department will prove a source of great satisfaction, as it will be in striking contrast to service accorded you elsewhere.

This Anniversary Sale Will surpass all our efforts and previous sales for the reason that it will commemorate our second year in business, and we are bound to make it a veritable bargain festival in which no woman can resist the temptation to join. It will be a temptation, because of the sterling values and hitherto unheard-of low prices on seasonable goods. Right at the beginning of the Spring season, when old mother nature is donning her new garb and toggling out for her Spring and Summer campaign, all womankind yearns to join her and blossom forth in all their loveliness, which all must confess is greatly enhanced by proper garb, as is a beautiful play with appropriate settings. All will concede who have visited this great store that the acme of perfection in beautiful garments has been reached in the magnificent variety, style and individuality of the gorgeous array of Spring and Summer goods that have been provided for your approval. Side by side with the most elaborate creations will be found the simpler and more inexpensive goods, provided to fit the demands of the most modest purse. If ever a dollar was known to do double duty, it will at this sale. A careful scrutiny of the prices here quoted is requested, but bear in mind that even in this liberal space, but comparatively few illustrations and prices can be shown.

Our Kenosha Store Will Open May 11th

Our Northward march has commenced. Our Waukegan store firmly established in the good will of the community, we are now ready to fulfill the promise made a year ago--to branch out. Kenosha is but the second on the list, and we are willing to confide in our friends and tell them that there will be long be a third, then a fourth--and that is as far as our plans are perfected. The opening of this second store means much to both communities. It means a doubled outlet for the exclusive lines we handle, enormous buying on our part and therefore lower prices, the full benefit of which we propose to give our customers. We do not go to Kenosha as strangers, for our reputation square dealing and being headquarters for everything ready-to-wear for women and children has preceded us. For the past year we have enjoyed a large trade from Kenosha and scores of pleased patrons ready and waiting for the opening of our new store. The same successful methods that have built up our enormous business in Waukegan will make our store equally popular. Our new store is located at the corner of Main and Wisconsin streets. Friends from this section are cordially invited to make their headquarters there.

RADCLIFFE DIAMOND

[Original.]
I am a detective. Among the queer cases I have had, the case of the Radcliffe diamond was, I think, on the whole, the queerest. I call it the Radcliffe to distinguish it, for a Mr. Radcliffe was its owner. One morning on reporting at the office the chief told me that the gentleman had lost a very valuable diamond, not much smaller than some of the famous diamonds of the world, and wished a detective to try to recover it. I called on Mr. Radcliffe, who took me into his study and said to me:

"You have nothing to do in finding out who stole the diamond. I know that already. What I want is its return. A diamond is so easily put away where it cannot be found that the greatest care must be taken to trap the person who possesses it. The chief clerk at my office is the thief. I took the diamond there and put it in my safe. The clerk—his name is Coleman—and myself alone knew the combination. Coleman deliberately took the diamond, knowing that I could not prove him the thief and if I did I could not recover the property. I have offered him $10,000 to return it, but he will not admit that he stole it till I offer him the price he has fixed for its return, with indemnity against prosecution. I wish you to trap him with the diamond on his person."

I got an assistant to play detective with Coleman, while I was to be his real shadow. My object was to drive him from his room and, indeed, out of town, expecting that he would take the diamond with him. My stool pigeon found him the same evening in a billiard room and made it appear that he was watching him. Coleman went at once, not to his home, but to the house of a relative. From there he went to a railway station. Of course I was watching him from a distance and made up my mind that he had taken the diamond from the house he had visited and was going to try to get out of the country with it.

Coleman went to the ticket office and bought a ticket to New York. I was in line behind him and bought a ticket for the same place. I telephoned to the office for assistants to keep him in view till the train, which was not due to start for an hour, should be off. I kept out of his way. One of them signalled me when he got on the train, and as it pulled out I got on myself. I had refrained from having him arrested while in his own town, fearing that he might have a confederate keep the gem till the train started or to hand it to in case of arrest. I preferred to take my chances with him in a region strange to him.

I took along an assistant and when we had been on the road a couple of hours told him to let Coleman see that he was watching him. Then I went to another car. My object was to drive him from the train. I also instructed the assistant not to get off the train if Coleman did. I wished the fugitive to think that he had eluded the detective. At every station I looked out for my man, and it was not long before I saw him, when the train stopped, alight and stand on the platform. When the train went on, he remained. Having fancied he would get on before the train started, I remained on the car. Seeing that he would remain, I jumped off. He cast a glance at me that told me my game of secrecy was up and, henceforth I must follow him as a suspected detective.

But it did not matter. The station was at a small village, which was as good a place as any to try to recover the diamond. Coleman went to a hotel. He did not enter his name on the register, but sat down in the office. I sat down opposite him. He knew, and I was willing that he should know, that I was after him.

Presently he got up, walked out and through the village and beyond, where the road ran through a wood. I followed him, keeping my hand on my revolver. Coming to a place where the road turned through a cut, I was walking with a bank behind me when Coleman suddenly turned and fired at me so quickly that I had no time to protect myself from the shot. I was not scratched, and Coleman, instead of firing again, threw away his pistol and called out that he surrendered.

Somewhat puzzled, I advanced, holding him covered, searched him for other weapons and, finding none, for the diamond.

It was not on his person. I was satisfied that he had tricked me. But how? I went to the side of the road and picked up his pistol. It was an old fashioned one barrel pistol of very large bore. What had he to do with such a weapon? For a moment, and a moment only, I was balked as to his reason; then suddenly the whole scheme flashed upon me.

Marching Coleman back to the village, I put him in limbo, then returned to the place where he had fired at me. I searched for an hour in the bank and below it, then, when I was about to give up, concluded to scratch away the earth in a line extended from where Coleman had stood to where I had stood. Presently I was delighted to see something glistening roll out. It was the diamond. Coleman had fired it from his pistol.

Having both Coleman and the diamond, I returned with him to the city and handed the one over to the authorities and the other to its owner. I do not know which was more pleased at my success, Mr. Radcliffe or I. He was especially so for my services, and was enough to buy me a small

WOULD AVOID A TARIFF WAR

Uncle Sam Urged to Dicker with the French Government for a Reciprocity Treaty.

Paris, April 30.—Ambassador White has joined Consul General Mason in recommending that the United States government propose the appointment of a joint tariff commission, similar to the one which has been in session at Berlin, to reach a basis for the avoidance of future complications.

The American Chamber of Commerce of Paris has forwarded recommendations to Secretary Root along the same line. The chamber is convinced that unless a reciprocity treaty is negotiated soon the French government will not be able to resist the demands of the manufacturers and that a tariff war against the United States will be begun.

Anderson Is Modest.

Washington, April 30.—Ex-Governor Durbin, of Indiana, asked the president to stop about five minutes at Anderson, Ind., on the afternoon of his departure from Indianapolis, where he is to deliver a speech on Memorial Day, for Lansing, Mich. The president probably will comply with the request, and it is expected will make a few remarks. The president's train will reach Anderson at 7 o'clock in the evening.

This Is Great April Weather.

Oskaloosa, Ia., April 30.—An almost unprecedented snow storm prevailed here with the temperature near freezing.

Dubuque, Ia., April 30.—A snow storm prevailed here, spreading four inches of snow on the level. The weather is mild.

Time to Get Busy.

Paris, April 30.—It was decided at the cabinet meeting that the time had arrived for energetic action against public servants engaged in agitation for the organization of unions and eventual affiliation with the Federation of Labor.

Always Such a Prospect There.

Panama, April 30.—Advises received here from Ecuador are to the effect that serious trouble is expected in that country as an incident of the congressional elections which are set for May 5.

Easy to Settle It This Way.

Salt Lake City, April 30.—It is announced that through the efforts of the citizens the street car strike has been settled, the demands of the men having been granted.

Wants to Get It Over With.

Washington, April 30.—A letter has been sent from the executive offices accepting "forthwith" the resignation of Herbert J. Hagerman as governor of New Mexico.

Nice Spring Weather in Italy, Too.
Rome, April 30.—A cold wind which arose suddenly is blowing over the peninsula, particularly in the northern part, where also a severe snow storm is in progress.

THE DELIGHTS OF BERMUDA.

No Onions, but Many Other Things Bring Joy to Tourist.

If you just go to Bermuda for the onions you had better stay at home, because all the onions are exported, says the Travel Magazine. But if you can make up your mind to do without onions, you will have a splendid time. In the first place there are no railroads, and, oh, blessed thought! no trolleys on the islands. You can forget the hurry and the fret and rest tired nerves. You can bathe, you can sail on the wonderfully clear water within the rampart of coral, you can fish, and look through water glasses 30 feet down on the teeming life under sea. The Bermuda boats are rigged with something which is almost a balloon jib and a leg-o-mutton or jib-headed mainsail, and they are of very deep draught. But they work pretty handily, and will stand up and sail fast in rough water, so that you can take them out beyond the protected water without fear. At any rate, they add to the attractiveness of the islands to everybody who cares for sailing.

HERE'S PROOF POSITIVE.

Dispute as to Whether Animals Think Settled for All Time.

"Do animals think?" was the subject under discussion by the Dewsbury Debating club. Bob Rogers, the dog fancier, said they did.

"I have a dog," he declared, "which acted like a hero once when my house caught fire. My wife and I snatched up as many of the children as we could carry, and flew into the street. Neither of us had time to count them till we got outside, and then, alas! we found there was one missing."

"Before we had time to return to the blazing house we saw Rover peering into the faces of all the rescued children, and then, having discovered that there was one short, he sprang through the flames and reappeared, in less than a minute, with a blanketed bundle, which proved to be our child."

"Marvelous!" exclaimed the listeners. "Wait a second, my Impatient friends," proceeded Rogers. "That dog hadn't finished. In two seconds he was back in the furnace again. We felt sure the noble animal would be cremated, and I remember feeling disappointed that he hadn't been able to count the children correctly, after all, for there was none left in the house to save. However, when he returned he had between his teeth, all safe and sound—what do you think?"

"Give it up!" shouted everybody. Rogers leaped forward and whispered:

"The fire insurance policy—wrapped in a wet towel!"

HOW TO FORGIVE AN INJURY.

True Spirit in Which Apology Should Be Accepted.

How do we forgive? Let us hope that we always forgive as we would wish to be forgiven. "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." He who gives pardons has need of both love and cheerfulness.

Perhaps we do not appreciate how hard it is for some persons to say "I am sorry." Perhaps there is a vindictive streak in many of us that holds out against our better impulses. To apologize is rarely if ever a pleasant task. One may feel that a certain angry speech was wrong, but it takes great moral and spiritual courage to go to the person with whom one has been irritated and say, humbly: "I was angry just now; I spoke hastily. Will you forgive me?"

It should not require superhuman grace for the person who has been offended to accept such an apology in the same spirit in which it has been offered. But too often the speech of pardon is cold and has a ring that is not sincere. Once in a great while it is accompanied by an acknowledgment that the sinner for forgiveness has been disagreeable and that while he is forgiven he must remember that an unkind speech cannot always be forgotten at will.

He who thus receives an apology is farther from the right path than he who has acknowledged his fault. The one is conscious of his wrong and admits it and seeks to make amends; the other is wrapped about with a mantle of self-conceit and self-righteousness.—Chicago Tribune.

One Playmate for Him.

"Mamma, can't I go up to the next block and play with the Jones boys?" asked Henry, a boy of six, who was being brought up very carefully.

"No, indeed!" answered his mother. "They are very bad boys."

"Then can't I go over to see Mrs. Smith's little girls?"

"No, Henry; I'm afraid to let you go."

The little fellow left the room; later he stuck his head inside with, "Say, mamma, I'm going over next door and play with the dog."—Woman's Home Companion.

The Get-Away.

The race is not always to the swift, but it cannot be denied that the man who gets started first has a big advantage.

Simplicity Itself.

An Irish lawyer has suggested a remarkably neat and simple method of abolishing perjury. He proposes that in future the administration of the oath—without which perjury is impossible—shall be dispensed with.—Punch.

CURE FOR GOAT DYSPESIA.

Bill Saunders Suggests a Little Ammonia in the Paint.

"Just as opium affects a Chinaman so does paint act on a goat, and that is the reason why among the scores of goat mascots in the United States navy to-day there is only one that is healthy and fat," said Bill Saunders, a blue-jacket of the battleship Ohio to friends who were admiring Buckeye, the vessel's little California goat mascot.

"The first thing a goat does after he gets aboard is to fill himself up with red paint, with a little white lead for dessert. The result is the total disruption of his digestion, and soon what had been a fat, frolicsome little kid becomes a morose, lean, and dyspeptic old goat. Loads of schemes have been tried by the boys to destroy William's appetite for paint, but they never hit it once till we did. What did we do? Well, seein' as it's you, I'll let you in on the secret."

"When Buckeye was transferred to us from the Chicago of the Pacific fleet, just before we leaves for Manila two years ago, we put before him a bowl of red paint. But there was something in the mixture besides paint. We had poured half a glass of pure ammonia into the paint."

"The minute the goat saw that paint he went crazy with joy. With one bound, he was on it. Without waiting to inspect the mixture he stuck his nose into it, and then something happened. That goat began to sneeze. For three hours he kept it up, and he never forgot the dose that caused it. From that day to this he has never tasted paint. Ammonia cured him, and that's why he's the only healthy goat in the navy."

PLUM PUDDING ALL RIGHT.

The Lancet Says It Is a Good Meal in Itself and Is Unjustly Blamed.

The London Lancet, which so often points out the terrible and unsuspected dangers to health encountered in every day life, publishes with reasonable optimism a hearty defense of the Christmas pudding.

"It is accused of indigestibility," says the Lancet, "but a synchical consideration of all the events would indicate the reverse to be the case."

For an individual enjoying average health the ingredients of plum pudding should offer no physiological stumbling block."

The paper then points out that the pudding is generally eaten after an extra large, hearty meal and unjustly gets blamed for what is really the result of overeating.

"The Christmas pudding," says the Lancet, "is a meal for a hungry man, for it is hardly possible to conceive a more complete food. Eggs supply plenty of protein, suit a sufficiency of fat and bread crumbs, fruit and sugars a generous proportion of carbohydrates. Moreover, most of these carry the further necessities of human diet, namely, mineral salts."

Foibles of Letter Writers.

The London Chronicle wants to know how you date your letters. If they are dated at all or which of the nine ways appeals to an individual's taste or laziness. There are some persons who do not take the trouble to date their letters at all, and the Chronicle is brutal enough to add "they are mostly women." Who does not receive letters with signatures that beat the Dutch for illegibility? Or, perhaps with no address, no date, and the signature "that would puzzle an archangel and split a linotype machine." But the worst of it is so many people rejoice in their illegible signature! It lends an air of distinction to the baldest missive.

Survey of Brazilian Rivers.

A survey has been authorized by the Brazilian government of the Rivers Purus, Acre and Jurua, with the object of improving the navigation upon them. There seems to be no prospect of the great Amazonas territory reached by these rivers being opened up in any other way.

To Be Fat: Drink Chocolate.

In an obscure but picturesque little village of far off Germany there is a place called "Chocolate Cure," where thin people go to become stout. The patients eat and drink cocoa and chocolate all the time while they rest, admire the scenery, gossip and grow fatter every day. The true secret of the great success of this treatment is the happy way chocolate has of fattening just the right places, settling in the hands, the arms, the neck and the shoulders, making the fair patient prettier and plumper all the time. The really effective part of this cure may be tried at home by any persevering woman, and the medicine is as palatable and the method so simple that there is actually, it seems no reason why all should not be just the desired weight.

Jamaica Land of Romance.

Jamaica holds a notable place in English history. It has witnessed the warfare of English, French and Spaniards. Rodney, Nelson and Benbow knew it well in their fighting days, and the latter lies buried in Jamaica earth. The buccaneers made it a port of call, and brought it into the kingdom of romance.

The Way of Happiness.

There is work that is work, and there is play that is play; there is play that is work and work that is play, and in only one of these lies happiness.—Gelett Burgess.

THE END OF A GAY SEASON

[Original.]

Madge Chipman was the belle of the village. Madge was not every man's girl, but every man belonged to Madge. That is, they all wanted her—at least, all but Cyrus Weatherby, who didn't seem to want any girl. He was a shy, solemn, plodding sort of fellow, seldom taking any part in the amusement of the young people who were the gayest of gay farmers' sons and daughters.

If there was one among the swains who was considered to have any better chance with Madge than the others it was Tom Hatch, but this was rather on account of his superior audacity than any special encouragement Madge had—at least, publicly—shown him. As Madge could have had any of the young men, so Tom could have had any of the young women. There was only one of them that he wanted, and that was Madge.

The winter was a gay one, and the young people of the neighborhood, copying from their city cousins, resolved to end their festivities with the beginning of Lent. When a number of them were together one evening some one of the party suggested that they should wind up the season by a grand frolic.

"Suppose," said Cyrus Weatherby in his usual serious tone and manner, "we have a mock elopement."

There was a burst of laughter at the sedate Cyrus making such a proposition, which caused him to blush red as a rose, followed by a universal assent. Tom Hatch, as he usually did, took the lead, resolved that if he had not made the suggestion he would be at least the moving spirit in carrying it out. He suggested Madge as the female principal in the runaway and that she was to choose the masculine principal. Madge accepted the role and said that since Cyrus had made the proposition he should be the man in the case. There were laughter and clapping of hands at this, and, since it was evident that no refusal would be accepted, Cyrus blushing consented.

The plan when completed was this: Cyrus was to call on a certain night at Madge's house with the saddle horses. Madge was to descend by a trellis, and the two were to mount and dart away. One of the pursuing party was to be stationed at the bridge, half a mile up the road, and when the elopers crossed it he was to give a signal, and the whole party was to ride after them. The elopers were to make for the Washington tavern, ten miles away. If they got there before being caught, they were to be considered as having escaped and been married. If not, they were considered to have been captured. All were to partake of a supper at the tavern—a mock wedding supper.

At the appointed hour Cyrus made his appearance under Madge's window. She descended the trellis, mounted, and the two sped away like the wind. When they dashed over the bridge, a mounted man beside it fired a shot, which rang out clearly on the still air, and a merry party of boys and girls gave chase.

Cyrus and Madge had not gone far before it became evident that Cyrus, if stupid in other respects, had had the sense to secure a couple of thoroughbred horses. A full moon shining on snow fields made the road light as day. The elopers rather held in their steeds at first; but, having traversed half the distance and hearing a clatter closing up behind them, they loosened their reins, to reach the goal fully ten minutes before any of their pursuers.

Tom Hatch had the next best horse to the fleeing couple and rode up to the tavern before any other of the pursuing party. A couple of steaming horses, over each of which a blanket had been thrown, stood at the tavern door. Dismounting, he entered the living room and saw the eloping couple standing at one end, a man in a white necktie opposite. Tom was just in time to hear the words:

"I pronounce you man and wife."

It did not take Tom long to get the situation into his head. There was a sinking at his heart, but he put on the best face he could and, going out just as the rest of the party were riding up to the tavern, shouted:

"We've been sold! They're married!"

As the party came up in couples the fact was made known, and when the hindmost couple arrived all entered the tavern, shouting, laughing and dancing up to the young man and wife, who stood ready to receive congratulations. "And now, landlord," said one of the men, "bring on the supper."

A pair of folding doors were thrown back, and there stood the father and mother of the bride, one at each end of a well loaded table.

"I'm sorry," said the father, "at the informality of this wedding, but our Madge always was a madcap, and we were obliged to consent to this arrangement. She and Cyrus Weatherby have been engaged for some time and were to have been married shortly. It's only a little ahead of time. Come in, friends, and partake of the marriage feast."

There was a merry supper, during which every one was joyful but Tom Hatch, who could not be expected to be joyful. When the supper was finished the pursuing party rode back to the village, leaving the bride and groom at the tavern. It was early morning before the last one who had joined in the chase had gone to bed, and when all awoke it was Ash Wednesday, Lent had come.

THE INSTINCT OF DEATH.

Much Proof That This Sense Has Been Planted in Man.

The most convincing fact in proof of the existence in man of an instinct of natural death seems to me that reported by Toxarsky in relation to an old woman. In the lifetime of Toxarsky, I begged an acquaintance of his to obtain for me the details of this most interesting case, of which I had found but an incomplete statement. Toxarsky unfortunately could add nothing to what he had published in his article. I believe, however, that I have found the source from which his instance had been taken. In his book upon the physiology of taste, which had its day of celebrity, Brillat-Savarin relates the following: "I had a great aunt, 93 years old, who was dying. Although for some time confined to her bed, she had retained all her faculties, and her condition was only betrayed by her loss of appetite and the weakening of her voice. She had always shown a fondness for me, and I was near her bed, affectionately ready to wait on her, which did not prevent my watching her with the philosophical eye I have over had for the things and events surrounding me. 'Are you there, nephew?' she asked, in a scarcely audible voice. 'Yes, aunt; I am here at your service, and I think you would do well to take a little good old wine.' 'Give, mon ami; one can always swallow liquid.' I hastened; raising her gently, I made her take half a glass of my best wine. She brightened for a moment, and looking at me with eyes which had once been very fine, 'Thank you,' she said, 'for this last favor; if ever you reach my age, you will find that death becomes a need, just like sleep.' These were her last words; half an hour later she had fallen asleep forever. We unmistakably have here an instance of the instinct of natural death. The instinct was shown at a relatively early age, in a person who had retained all her intellectual faculties."—Ella Metchnikoff in Harpor's.

ABOUT OLD AGE PENSIONS.

There Are 3,086 Persons in This Country Over 100 Years Old.

Germany has expended $13,500,000 for age pensions, to say nothing of $555,700,000 for sickness and $232,750,000 for accidents. It is strange that this matter has not attracted more attention in an advanced country like the United States, which pays out more than $142,000,000 a year to army and navy pensioners and has spent $3,241,130,257 in that way since 1861. According to the Circle, the census figures show that in 1900 there were 3,080,498 persons of 65 or more years in the United States. This was four per cent. of the whole population. Of these, 600,926 were of 70 to 74 years; 360,696, 75 to 79 years; 182,304, 80 to 84 years; 66,389, 85 to 89 years; 18,636, 90 to 94 years; 4,838, 95 to 99 years; and 3,086, a hundred years and over. Among the 3,080,498 persons of 65 years and more, there were 1,044,351 married men and 521,220 married women, 410,565 widowers, 905,130 widows, 89,152 bachelors and 90,853 spinsters.

A Romance of the North.

A reunion between husband and wife after a separation of more than 22 years was effected a few days ago when Michael Kobovitch, the proprietor of a roadhouse on Pilgrim river, was introduced to his wife, whom he had last seen in Prussia more than a score of years ago, says the Nome Gold Digger.

Mr. Kobovitch left Prussia at that time for the purpose of seeking his fortune in America, and she has patiently awaited his return ever since. They have corresponded all the time, and a year ago Mr. Kobovitch sold some property in the Kougark district and sent for his wife with a portion of the proceeds.

Mrs. Kobovitch had changed so greatly since her husband had last seen her that it was necessary to introduce the couple to each other.

Case of Deceptive Appearances.

"Well," said the new reporter to the creditors' meeting, "it's easy enough to pick out the bankrupt."

"Think so?" replied the older one.

"Yes; see how shabby and careworn he looks."

"That's the principal creditor. The bankrupt is that man with the fur overcoat and diamond."

An Unprogressive Institution.

One of the most successful clergymen in Philadelphia, remarked a college professor, "was proud of the fact that he was always addressed as plain 'master,' and that he possessed no degree which entitled him to the honorable name of 'doctor.'"

"An elder entered the clergyman's study one morning and handed him a marked paper. The item stated that the minister had been honored by his old college and that now he could attach D. D. to his name."

"Well, well," muttered the pastor, not without feeling, for he loved his college, "my old school is a little behind the times, and still believes in capital punishment."

Tax on Irish Bachelors.

It is surely the function of the state to encourage rather than to penalize a high birth rate. A bachelor tax exists in many countries, if that course be thought too extreme, a differentiation between bachelors and men of family in the income tax would at least tend in that direction.—Dublin Freeman's Journal.

My Best Friend.

Alexander Benton, who lives on Rural Route 1, Fort Edward, N. Y., says: "Dr. King's New Discovery is my best earthly friend. It cured me of asthma six years ago. It has also performed a wonderful cure of incipient consumption for my son's wife. The first bottle ended the terrible cough, and this accomplished, the other symptoms left one by one, until she was perfectly well. Dr. King's New Discovery's power over coughs and colds is simply marvelous." No other remedy has ever equalled it. Fully guaranteed by J. H. Swan, druggist. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Less Demand for the Horse.

"The automobile is knocking out the horse on all sides," said a liveryman. "It is knocking out the horse not only among automobilists but among people who never enter an automobile. Those who used to ride and drive are afraid to now. The auto scares their horses, it runs them down—altogether it takes the fun quite out of riding and driving."

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it in milk for baby."

HAD A USE FOR THE STOVE.

Doctor Knew Where He Could Place It to His Advantage.

The following story is being told of a certain celebrated Parisian doctor, whose domestic relations are said to be not altogether satisfactory. He was called in one day to prescribe for a lady who thought she had influenza. But the doctor, after observing her symptoms, looked about the room in order to discover the cause. Suddenly he perceived the stove, a very beautiful work of art, and exclaimed: "My dear madam, that stove is the cause of your trouble; it is filling your room with poisonous gas, and if you continue to use it, it will end by killing you." "But doctor, it cost me $24." "No matter; better lose your money than your health." But as the lady seemed unconvinced, the doctor added: "I will give you one-quarter the price, and see if I cannot get rid of the thing." So the stove departed. Later on the patient was changing her apartments and went to look at some others that were being vacated. In one of the rooms she inspected she recognized her former stove. "Who is living here?" she inquired. "Mme. G—," was the reply. With a smile of understanding the lady left. —Tit-Bits.

Grim Epitaph in Hungary.

What is the most terrible epitaph in existence? One of the grimmest is surely that on a stone which was set up a few years ago in the cemetery of Debrecein, eastern Hungary: "Here rest in the Lord Joseph Moritz, senior, who died in his 62d year. He was shot by his son. Frau Joseph Moritz, senior, who died in her 47th year. She was shot by her daughter. Elizabeth Moritz, who died by her own hand in her 17th year, after shooting her mother. Joseph Moritz, who died in prison, aged 27. He had shot his father. May eternal mercy have pity on their poor, sinful souls!" This memorial was erected by a local literary association to which, it is said, the last of the ill-starred family left a sum of $7,500 for the purpose.

WHEN THE EARTH IS FULL.

Professor Thinks Limit Will Be Reached About 2072.

Prof. Ravenstein, of the Royal Geographical society, has estimated that the fertile lands of the globe amount to 28,000,000 square miles, the steppes to 14,000,000, and the deserts to 1,000,000. Fixing 207 persons to the square mile for fertile lands, ten for steppes, and one for deserts as the greatest population that the earth could properly nourish, the professor arrives at the conclusion that when the number of inhabitants reaches about six thousand million, the earth will be peopled to its full capacity. At present it contains somewhat more than one-quarter of that number. If the rate of increase shown by the latest census statistics should be uniformly maintained, Prof. Ravenstein shows that the globe would be fully peopled about the year 2072.—Sunday Magazine.

When your back aches it is almost invariably an indication that something is wrong with your kidneys. Weak, diseased kidneys frequently cause a break down of the entire system. DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills afford prompt relief for weak kidneys, backache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary troubles. Sold by J. H. Swan.

Keeping Youthful Things.

A busy woman once said that she never knew how much she could accomplish until she became the companion of her young sons, sharing their sports and limiting her own working hours to theirs. To-day they are young men and she looks like their sister. There are other young mothers of grown men and they are rather formidable rivals to younger women. The sons unconsciously make comparisons, generally in favor of mother. It is beautiful to "grow up" in this fashion with one's children, says a writer; to keep pace with them in new studies and new thoughts, something like a second youth. We are so quick to put away youthful things unless we have some such incentive to hold them.

Before Breakfast.

Shall we walk before breakfast? Assuredly! Why this eternal yearning for breakfast? Forget it. Dr. Latson says: "We get to-day's strength (not stimulation) from yesterday's food, not from to-day's. I have walked many hundred miles without breakfast. In fact, all the walking I have done in the last four years has been without breakfast—for I never take any." George Sand used to walk in the daytime and write at night. Dickens used to say that a ten-mile staid foot was the best preparation for his daily literary work. Daniel Webster and George Washington were great walkers.

Dist. of the Devil Fish.

A lady's hat was discovered in the stomach of a large "monk" or "devil" fish which was opened on Scarborough pier yesterday, says the London Daily News. The hat was practically whole. Inside the large mouth of the fish was a sole. No doubt the hat had been blown from the head of some young lady on a ship.

Had Domesticated Sloths.

Dr. Hauthal, a German savant, has put forward a startling theory concerning the remains of gigantic sloths related to the great magatherium and the mylodon, recently found in Patagonia. In his opinion, these animals, whose race is now extinct, were kept in a domesticated state by the prehistoric Patagonians.

Moments That Tell.

Be not discouraged with your work, neither with your life. No work faithfully done has ever been wasted and no life truly lived has ever failed. You will find as you look back upon your life that the moments that stand out are the moments when you have done things in the spirit of love.—Henry Drummond.

Page Was Too Playful.

A page at a Picaresque (London) club has lost his position because amused himself in his leisure moments by calling up public institutions on the telephone and making absurd inquiries. For example, he would call up the Hanwell Insane Asylum and ask: "Can I speak to the chief lunatic?"

For Sale—House, barn and one acre of land; also blacksmith shop and good will. Inquire of Jos. Pester, Lake Villa, Ill. 354

Fishing for Sheep.

When sheep were introduced into Cornwall, England, a flock of them ran into the sea and were floated by their wool. Some fishermen saw them, and, thinking them to be a new species of fish, made haste to try to catch them with hooks and nets. Next morning they brought home a catch whose value was greater than any load their boats had ever carried.

RUSSELL

Mrs. L. M. Bonner is again quite poorly. James Quigley called on friends here during the week.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Mary Newell Taylor of Eau Gallie, Florida, a boy.

John Summerton and family have moved into one of E. P. Siver's houses.

A number of the Russell people expect to leave for North Dakota on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. B. Young and James Murray spent Sunday with friends in Kenosha.

Mrs. I. O. Colby was a Chicago caller on Saturday. Her daughter Mollie accompanied her home.

Wm. Edwards of Chicago called over Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Thomas Edwards, who is at present very poorly.

Mrs. Ann Turk of Iowa has returned home after a two weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. Edwards at Hickory.

Universal Love.

So long as thou hast a whole and undivided love towards all men, a share of the virtues and divine influences bestowed upon all flows out unto thee through this love. But if thou dost sever any one from this spirit of universal love, thou wilt not receive the precious benefits of love. —Tauler.

Our Army.

The (United States) regular army, which is regarded as the basis or skeleton of a much larger army in time of war, is probably both as to officers and men the best physically, the most intelligent, the most highly trained and the most perfectly equipped of any army in the world.—London Spectator.

TROUSERS UNDER THE BAN.

Less Than a Century Ago They Were Considered Irreligious.

It will assuredly seem more than strange that within the past hundred years the wearing of trousers has been regarded as irreligious. The fact that in October, 1812, an order was made by St. John's and Trinity colleges that every young man who appeared in hall or chapel in pantaloons or trousers should be considered as absent is startling enough; but it would appear that eight years later the founders of a Bethel chapel at Sheffield inserted a clause in the trust deed ordaining that "under no circumstances whatever shall any preacher be allowed to occupy the pulpit who wears trousers." This is striking, but it is even more impressive to find that Rev. Hugh Bourne, one of the two founders of the Primitive Methodist Connexion, said of his confounder, "That trousers wearing, beer drinking Clowes will never get to heaven." And it would need a student of "the Breches Bible" to say precisely when this assumed connection between theology and trousers began and where the departure from it will end.—Notes and Queries.

Can Women Be Friends?

Can women be friends? Sacrifices for the sake of love of man and offspring are recorded without number, but female Davids and Damons are not readily discovered in either history or legend. Professors of platonic affection continue to evoke jeers of incredulity, and the traditional distinction of "dearest friends" still plays well its part in caricature. The changeableness of woman's nature has become axiomatic. Can it be that, throughout the ages, even to these enlightened days, it has retained consistency in this respect alone? It suffices for us to raise the question; to others of more certain mind we relinquish the hazardous privilege of adducing evidence and passing judgment.—Harper's Bazar.

Turkish "Palace of Waters."

The "Palace of Waters" is an enormous subterranean reservoir, which stretches for miles beneath Constantinople. The roof is upheld by ponderous stone arches; but who constructed this amazing reservoir no one can say. In 1830 two men attempted to explore the underground lake, but were never heard of again.

BIG RACE MEET AT LIBERTYVILLE

Lake County Oval to see Three Day Event of Note in July This Year

Two trotting meets are thus far scheduled for the Libertyville track this year.

One will be a matinee on July 4 and the other will be the opening of the Great Western Circuit July 16 to 19, inclusive, a three day meet that bids fair to be of great importance.

The fact that it is the opening of the Great Western Circuit will count largely with the gate receipts.

Entries for this meet will close May 6, and following are the stakes thus far:

2:20 trotting.....	$2,000
2:15 trotting.....	2,000
2:12 trotting.....	1,500
2:25 trotting for 3-year-olds.....	600
2:18 pacing.....	5,000
5:25 pacing.....	2,000
2:08 pacing.....	1,500
2:20 pacing for 3-year-olds.....	600

There are also eight races of $1,000 each to be announced later.

It is possible according to a horseman's magazine that Ed Geers will be at the track with his this year's famous sensational feature, William O. William O. is said to be capable of beating anything that Geers has had thus far, and Geers is the world's most famous reinsman.

The announcement of the meet is made in the magazine and bears the signature of J. S. Gridley, secretary of the track association.

Piles get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 5c cents. Sold by all dealers.

Making Friends.

Blessed is the man who has the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but, above all, the power of going out of one's self and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another man.

"Here's to your health and happiness!"—Do Witt's Little Early Risers—famous little pills. Nasty, sick headache or biliousness may come on any time; the cure is an Early Riser. Sold by J. H. Swan.

How to Ebonize.

Picture frames, chairs and other furniture may be ebonized by washing them four times, thoroughly drying between times, in a boiling mixture of strong logwood and water. Then wash the wood in a solution of acetate of iron, which is a mixture of iron filings and vinegar.

WEDD NEVER! GO TO JAIL FIRST

Miss Lucy Crosby and Arthur Bales Will Not Wed Under the Law

Will Miss Lucy Crosby and Arthur Bales the Zion City free-love leaders, remain martyrs to their unaccountable religious belief and, instead of taking the marriage obligation as the state law provides, continue defiance to it by refusing to be married under the law, even though they admit they are husband and wife in God's eyes; will they continue this defiance to ordinary wedlock even though they say they are fully determined to live together all their lives as husband and wife, according to their own teachings?

Their case is a most unusual one and developments will be watched with interest.

The couple remained in the county jail although W. O. Fee, the member of their colony who testified for them at their trial, sought hard to get bail for them. Unable to do so Friday, he was at it again Saturday and expected to get bail before night, whereupon they will return to Zion City to await the action of the grand jury in October.

While Friday, when the heat of the trial was upon them, they admitted that they believed they would get married under the law and thus overcome all trouble, since they got to their cells in the county jail, they changed their minds.

They declare they will not get married under the law, that they have been married once in the sight of God by each pledging his troth to the other—that is enough and they are willing to let matters go at that no matter what the consequence.

Saturday morning, after spending the night in jail, the couple said they would continue to remain there rather than get married under the law, in case their friends are unable to get bail for them. Of course, if bail is secured, they will not insist upon remaining in jail but will return to Zion City.

They say further that they will not, as has been expected, get married between now and when the grand jury sets but they will be on hand to face the grand jury and, if found guilty of the charge of unlawful cohabitation, they will go to prison as the court decrees.

And to think that all this trouble would be avoided if they would merely get a license and have somebody perform a legal ceremony instead of being anxious to defy the law and compel the world to recognize them as married although they merely made a formal acknowledgement of their plight to each other.

That the couple firmly believe themselves married is shown by the fact that the woman signs her name "Mrs. Lucy Bales," instead of "Miss Lucy Crosby."

Does Your Heart Beat

Yes. 100,000 times each day. Does it send out good blood or bad blood? You know, for good blood is good health; bad blood, bad health. And you know precisely what to take for bad blood—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Doctors have endorsed it for 60 years.

One frequent cause of bad blood is a sluggish liver. This produces constipation. Poisonous substances are then absorbed into the blood. Keep the bowels open with Ayer's Pills.

WILL DELVE IN THE PAST.

Long-Buried Cities of Italy Are to Be Exhumed.

All the world will join in applauding the resolution of Italy to disinter what treasures may yet remain under the debris of the age-long forgotten cities of Ostia and Paestum. Both cities were unkindly dealt with by Providence. The glory of Ostia, chief port of ancient Rome, receiving the corn and oil of Sicily, Sardinia and Africa, was slowly but surely betrayed by Father Time and lung contemptuously out of reach of the shallowest ships. Time, curiously enough, has, however, failed to rob her of her industry which first made her famous, and salt is still produced in small quantities from the little village of one hundred inhabitants that has stolen the old city's name and pays the ruins homage from the modest distance of two miles. Paestum is more Greek than Roman, and one may anticipate that if another temple of Neptune or temple of Ceres lies beneath the heaped-up dust of the centuries it will be Athens and not Rome that will be raised from the dead. Paestum's fate is sadder than that of Ostia, for the Greek colony on Roman soil was early smitten by malaria and an evil reputation caused her to be buried in a deeper oblivion than the wave-washed columns of Ostia.

Never See Her That Way.

With all her faults I love her still, but she is so seldom that way.
